First Canadians To Go In February

OTTAWA (CP)—First division of the Canadian Active Service Force will go overseas sometime in February, it is unofficially indicated here.

A policy of training troops in Canada rather than in Britain has been decided upon. Training supplies are being placed on order as rapidly as possible.

As to who will lead the First Division overseas, many names are mentioned, including that of Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, president of the National Research Council, who served as chief of the general staff from 1929 to 1935.

Politics Ruled Out In Canadian Army

OTTAWA (CP)—Political or personal bias in army appointments, promotions and purchases will not be tolerated, Hon. Norman Rogers, Defence Minister, said today.

All qualified firms and persons will be on the same basis as far as war supplies are concerned.

"A similar rule will govern commissions and promotions," Mr. Rogers said. "The Minister of National Defence will make no personal recommendations. They will be determined by the authorities on basis of merit. Listed men are to feel that merit will open a clear path of promotion to commissioned ranks."

That would not be the case if commissions were to be obtained on the basis of personal or political influence, he added. Officers whose duty it is to recommend for commissions and promotions are reminded of the same ruling.

"No departure from this order will be tolerated," Mr. Rogers said, in accord with the statement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that political preference or personal favoritism would not be tolerated in Canada's war effort.

R.A.F. Casualties

LONDON (CP)—A casualty list issued by the Air Ministry tonight showed 16 killed, 7 wounded, 3 missing and 5 believed prisoners. The period covered was not announced.

War Survey

DIPLOMATS ON OFFENSIVE

Diplomats took the offensive in a European war devoid of major military developments.

The British air ministry reported scouting planes had made night flights over Berlin, but did not say when.

On the Eastern front a German communiqué claimed the first German troops had moved into shattered Warsaw "without incident."

Defenders of the Hela Peninsula forts, "the last point of Polish resistance," were said to have surrendered unconditionally.

COMMUNISM SPREADS

Soviet Russian forces pushed communization of eastern Poland, which the Red Army occupied in dividing Poland with Germany.

On the Western front, a French communiqué said "the night was relatively calm."

French dispatches indicated the Allied forces were consolidating their positions and had removed thousands of small mines left behind by the Germans.

RAIDER ON ATLANTIC

On the sea, Britain lost her first merchant vessel in more than a week. The Information Ministry announced the 5,051-ton Clement had been sunk by a "raider" in the South Atlantic.

PEACE MOVE

Diplomatic activity centred in Moscow and Berlin.

Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy ended a visit with Adolf Hitler which was interpreted by Berlin sources as part of a "peace offensive" by the Fuehrer to end the war with Britain and France now that Poland has been conquered.

Some observers expected Ciano's father-in-law, Premier Mussolini, would assume the role of mediator in such peace efforts.

Britain and France, however, gave indications such a peace would be unacceptable, since both have pledged to restore Poland and destroy Hitlerism.

Coffee, Sandwiches Increases Proposed

A move to increase the price of coffee and sandwiches in local restaurants developed today as the result of wartime taxes and increases in food prices, but it is uncertain yet whether the prices will rise as scheduled.

A notice appeared in several coffee houses over the name of the Victoria Restaurant and Coffee Shop Association saying coffee would increase from 5 to 7 cents a cup and no sandwiches would be sold for less than 15 cents.

BEER PRICE UP

The retail price of beer was increased by 15 cents a dozen pints by the Liquor Control Board today as the new war taxes on malt were applied.

This put the basic price of bottled beer at $1.90 a dozen, less 25 cents on the bottles. Price on draft beer to beer parlors is increased from $23.00 to $25.50 a barrel.

W. F. Kennedy, Liquor Board chairman, said the actual increase in the barrel price was $2.70 but the board was absorbing 20 cents of it and passing $2.50 on to the retailers.

B.C. Hotelmen's Association has called a meeting to decide on whether smaller glasses of beer will be served to make up the $2.30 a barrel increase.

Nickel Shipments To Japan Double

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports of nickel to Japan in the first six months of 1939 amounted to $4,609,621 compared with $2,586,248 in the corresponding period of 1938. Department of Trade and Commerce reported today. Exports of lead jumped to $1,318,244 from $149,544.

Other exports with figures for 1938 in brackets: Copper $1,155,088 ($1,095,708); zinc, $935,856 ($552,171); asbestos, $719,552 ($883,042); aluminum, $4,504,122 ($2,691,174).

Toronto Flier Missing

TORONTO (CP)—Flying Officer Robert Coste, believed to have taken part in last Friday's Royal Air Force raid on the German naval base in Heligoland Bight, was officially reported missing in a cable received today by his father, E. Frank Coste, well-known geologist.

THE HARVEST IS IN—IN POLAND—A Polish peasant cart, which only recently brought the harvest from the fields, serves here as a death wagon, holding the bodies of women killed by Nazi bombs at Kzemienc, near the Rumanian border. German forces today marched into Warsaw, took over the city and the last Polish outpost nearby was silenced.

Two Victorians Die After Accidents

Howard Alvin Anderson, 25, 1857 Fern Street, former English rugby player, died at 1:05 yesterday morning in the Royal Jubilee Hospital from injuries sustained in an accident at James Island on Saturday.

Mr. Anderson, a longshoreman employed by the Empire Stevedoring Company, was injured when he was unloading nitrates from a ship at James Island. He was rushed to the hospital where he was attended by Dr. Gordon Kenning.

"Howie," as he was better known by his school chums and in sporting circles, was one of the fastest rugger players who ever played here. For several years he played for the Canadian Scottish senior fifteen and one year was chosen as a member of the Victoria representative team in provincial competition.

He is the son of Howard Alvin Anderson of Fredericton, New Brunswick, and the late Mrs. Anderson. He has been living in Victoria with his aunt, Miss Margaret Rogers. He attended Boys' Central School.

He was born in Richardson, Sask., and leaves besides his father, one brother, William Douglas, at 344 Berwick Street; one sister, Mrs. Ralph W. Liebel, Foul Bay Road, and four aunts, Miss I. A. Rogers, Miss M. Rogers, Miss H. Rogers and Mrs. J. Seward, all of 1857 Fern Street. The remains are resting in the Sands Mortuary Chapel, where funeral services will be conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2. Rev. H. A. McLeod will officiate, and interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

An inquest will be held tomorrow at 10 at Sands Funeral Parlors.

Fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of a companion's gun while hunting yesterday afternoon at 2 in the Luxton District, 17-year-old David George Lord, 68 Crease Avenue, Saanich, died at 6:15 this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Lord was taken to the hospital in a C and C ambulance, where efforts by Dr. J. H. Moore failed to save him. The bullet, fired from a 30-30 Savage rifle, went through Lord's left hip, traveling upward and forward, through his abdomen.

LATE DAVID LORD

Lord, accompanied by Charles Alvin Grieve, 18, of 57 Cadillac Avenue, Saanich, left the city at 4 yesterday morning on their bicycles. Arriving at Luxton at 5 they split up and did not meet again until 1. Shortly afterward they met two friends, George Peden and Harold Crooks, and decided to go rabbit hunting.

They found a hole and while one was trying to dislodge the rabbit, Grieve went behind the hill to see if there was another exit. He found none and retraced his steps, intending to help the others make the rabbit come out. Lord was sitting on the ground and Grieve went to do likewise when his gun accidentally discharged, police reported.

Lord, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lord, received his early schooling at Tolmie School and attended Mount View High School. He was born in Nelson, B.C., and had been a resident here for 11 years. He was employed by the Consolidated Optical Company.

A coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow.

Sergt. G. A. Johnson and Constable C. Irving of the Provincial Police attended the case.

Italy in War If Peace Rejected, Diplomats Fear

ROME (AP)—Italian and foreign diplomats expressed a growing concern today Italy might be forced into the European war by Britain and France turned down a peace offer by Adolf Hitler.

Officials were silent on Foreign Minister Count Ciano's visit to Berlin, but many Italians said they thought Hitler was asking Italy to present a peace proposal by the Fuehrer—and be ready to enter the war in the event of its rejection.

Newspapers indicated such an offer might include a proposal to create a new Poland, much smaller than the old one and with a government similar to Slovakia's.

Il Messaggero published a dispatch from Berlin saying some observers there felt the frontier agreed on by Germany and Soviet Russia for their occupying forces was not necessarily final and a new setup might be agreed on.

Through the Russian-German declaration in Moscow last week Hitler has implied if Britain and France did not come to terms he would unloose a severe war. In such event, it was regarded likely here he would insist on Italy fulfilling her obligations under the Italian-German military alliance and going to Hitler's assistance.

The possibility the Hitler-Ciano meeting might produce a German "final offer" of peace and Premier Mussolini would transmit it to Great Britain and France was given much consideration.

Among Italians, it was believed widely, Il Duce might suggest a five-power peace conference.

Federal Contract For Victoria Firm

OTTAWA (CP)—The Department of Public Works today announced award of 39 contracts with an aggregate value of $678,008, including the following in British Columbia: Port Renfrew, wharf repairs and extension, Victoria Pile Driving Company Ltd., Victoria, $11,345.

Public Works Department dredge, docking, renewals to hull plating, British Columbia Marine Engineers and Shipbuilders Ltd., Vancouver, $47,825.

Vancouver, Wharf Building, alterations and extension, Allan and Viner Construction Company Limited, Vancouver, $20,380.

Stevenson, extension to Albion Dike No. 2, W. Greenless, Vancouver, $43,292.

Offer to Abdicate, Hitler Peace Trump?

LONDON (CP)—Newspapers speculated today on the form of Hitler's expected "peace" offer.

The London Daily Mirror suggested that Hitler's forthcoming "peace" gesture might be an offer to "abdicate in favor of Goering" if Great Britain and France would accept his peace terms. The Fuehrer then could rest on his laurels as creator of the new and greater Germany and devote his time to art and literature, as he recently told Ambassador Henderson he wanted to do, the Daily Mirror suggested.

"The Allies say they are fighting Hitlerism," the Daily Mirror quoted Der Fuehrer. "Then I am ready to go. I have created a greater Germany."

The Daily Mirror diplomatic correspondent said this gesture would be Hitler's trump card and he might play it in his speech before the Reichstag Friday.

But this strategy would fail, said the Mirror.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Mail reported that Germany probably would suggest the re-establishment of a "little Czechoslovak state" in an effort to make its "peace" proposals more agreeable to the Allies.

The correspondents also suggested that Chancellor Hitler was using Italy to advance his peace proposals so that "Catholic Italy" could warn that if the proposals were rejected Rome "declined all responsibility for the reappearance of Communism in Germany."

REJECTED IN ADVANCE

The Daily Telegraph rejected the Hitler proposals in advance and said "there is nothing which should tempt any nation not beaten to its knees to consider peace proposals at such a moment and from such a source."

The newspaper suggested the new Russo-German agreement "is not as satisfying to German expectations as the price which has been paid for it would justify."

"Josef alain becomes not an ally in arms of Hitler but a benevolent neutral, whose benevolence has to be stimulated not merely by a heavy retaining fee but by repeated and substantial refreshers," the Telegraph said. "As long as Russian compliance is necessary to Germany, the German compliance is no longer necessary to Russia, it may be conjectured that Stalin will not readily be a party to any measures which in-

Armed Raider Sinks Freighter, Hunted By British

LONDON (AP)—The British Government announced today "correct measures" were being taken against the south Atlantic raider.

Part of Crew Saved

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Unconfirmed reports reaching here from Maceio said 11 survivors of the British freighter Clement, which was sunk off the Brazilian coast, were reported to have landed at Maceio in a lifeboat.

The reports said the crew related that the captain and chief engineer of the Clement were taken by the German raider which sank the Clement and that at least 12 members of the crew were rescued by the Brazilian steamship Itatinga.

The Maceio advices said one of the crew reaching there had a bullet wound. The Itatinga is scheduled to arrive at Sao Salvador (Bahia) tomorrow.

These reports said the attack on the freighter took place off the Brazilian town of Qedras, in the state of Ala Oas, a short distance northeast of Maceio.

The captain of the Swedish passenger ship Argentina, which arrived in Rio de Janeiro yesterday, said he saw a German cruiser headed in the direction of Africa when his ship was nearing Recife (Pernambuco).

Shortly afterward, he related, he saw a British freighter sinking and then a German submarine passed by. Like the cruiser, the submarine was headed east.

(The Booth American Line, owners of the Clement, said in New York the freighter carried a crew of 49. She left Recife last Friday for Bahia. Maceio is about 300 miles northeast of Bahia.)

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Shipping circles here, speculating on the identity of the German raider which sank the British freighter Clement, recalled today that at least half a dozen German merchantmen have left Brazilian and Argentine ports since the war began and are still unreported.

Among these was the speedy liner Cap Norte, which shipping men said would serve admirably as an armed raider if she obtained armaments. She sailed more than a week ago from Recife, heavily loaded with fuel and accompanied by two German freighters, likewise carrying fuel and foodstuffs.

The Cap Norte, a 13,615-ton passenger ship, is one of the fastest liners in the south Atlantic service.

Chinese Attack Surprises Japs

HONGKONG (AP)—Several hundred casualties were reported today in the wake of a surprise Chinese attack on Japanese guard posts along Hongkong's mainland border.

A hard rain grounded Japanese planes and resulted in comparative quiet along the front tonight, except for occasional machine-gun fire near the scene of yesterday's encounter.

Japanese communications were disrupted. Chinese forces were reported to outnumber the Japanese 10 to one and the Japanese situation was described by observers as precarious unless reinforcements arrive from Canton or Swatow.

Chinese dispatches from Changsha today said the main Japanese force attacking the Hunan Province city had been repulsed 20 miles to the northeast with several thousand casualties and that another Japanese advance had been checked west of the Canton-Frankow railroad.

Fighting from prepared hill positions, the Chinese said they had disabled Japanese mechanized units and silenced enemy artillery which earlier had blasted openings in the Chinese defences.

Communism Advances West

(See radiophoto Page 1)

First foreign correspondent ever given an inside view of the Red Army on the march, Melvin Whiteleather of the Associated Press, tells in the following dispatch how Soviet Russia is taking over eastern Poland.

BREST-LITOVSK, Russia—
Soviet Russia is communizing eastern Poland as fast as the Red Army advances into the parti-tioned Polish state.

Supported by truckloads of Communist literature and large pictures of Josef Stalin, Communism is being brought nearer central Europe.

One of Nazi Germany's favorite pieces of strategy is to send soup kitchens behind the army in an effort to win over the population in occupied territories—but the Communists send propaganda trucks with the army and start right in attempting to convert the populace.

SET UP COMMITTEES

Local governing committees are being set up, militias are being forced to police towns and villages and factories are now in the workers' hands, with one Russian on each factory committee.
Smaller workshops, however, have not been touched.

The trucks carrying Communist literature and Stalin's pictures halt at the towns and villages to preach the Bolshevik doctrine. I saw several of them during 2½ days as the guest in this section of the Red Army.

During that visit, I got a sidelight on the Red Army's strength.
Russia appeared to be pouring over 1,000,000 men with full equipment into eastern Poland.

The army looked as if it were three-fourths Asiatic and a fourth European in its manpower. It was western in its motorized heavy artillery, in the standardization of equipment and plentiful modern antitank guns.

RED SIGNS

As Russia penetrates what once was Poland, the inhabitants of this region are wearing bits of red cloth in buttonholes or pinned to their sleeves to signify allegiance to new order. Small im-provvised red flags made of any sort of material and cut to a point hang from houses.

In order to get one meal for 15 persons at Bereza Kartuzka, the Red Army had to send an automobile through surrounding villages within a radius of six miles.
Sausage was requisitioned from one village, tomatoes in another, bread another and cheese in the fifth while 15 waited.

Hotels are closed.

Soviet Officers Swarm in Berlin

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN (AP)—The German capital is swarming these days with Russian military men. It seems to mark the beginning of co-operation between the two nations—militarily, economically, industrially, and, possibly, even socially.

One high officer of the German army, who at the same time has a high rank in the Nazi Party, put it thus:

"It is far easier for Nazi Germany and Communist Russia to get together and find a common basis than for the Nazis or the Communists to align themselves with democracy."

When reminded that foreign correspondents writing in this vein a year or more ago were denounced by German government spokesmen, he said blandly:

"The alliance with Russia was forced on us by events, but now we are discovering your correspondents were right."

The "Russia committee of German industry" has been organized for regulating business relations with Russia. Major Fritz Tschunke, an expert on Russian affairs, is chairman.

One of his first acts was to inform German business firms that Russia was not interested in articles of daily use, but wanted equipment calculated to speed up industrialization.

Another group of men, whom special duties devolve, is the Society of German Engineers. German technical experts could help exploit Russia's vast reservoirs of raw materials, many of which hardly have been touched.

Germany is specially interested in Russian naphtha, oil, lumber, grain, cotton and manganese and many other ores. A government source recently claimed 70 ships were under way from the Soviet bringing raw materials to Germany.

Contracts are being signed for German experts to "install plants and render technical help," as Major Tschunke put it, "in connection with orders placed within the framework of the present German Russian agreement."

U.S. Fleet to Hawaii

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—

A detachment of the United States fleet, including the aircraft carrier Enterprise, will leave here this week, possibly Thursday, for the Hawaiian area.

EUROPE EYES TURKEY—While the world awaits the outcome of the present talks in Moscow between Turkish Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu and the Soviet government, it is pointed out that should Turkey's pact with Britain and France be broken, the closed straits would block aid to Rumania. Russia would have an exclusive trade channel to the Mediterranean. There is much speculation as to Russia's attitude toward German moves in the Balkans.

Embargo Repeal Debate Launched In U.S. Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators
Key Pittman (Democrat, Nevada) began a senate debate over the United States neutrality policies today by asserting the existing arms embargo was "a discrimination in favor of Germany."

Speaking as chairman of the foreign relations committee, Pittman offered the administration's neutrality bill to repeal the arms embargo as "the most important legislation that has ever been proposed to Congress" and said it was designed "for the purpose of keeping us out of a European war."

After Pittman had concluded, Senator William E. Borah (Republican, Idaho), dean of the senate and leader of forces opposed to repeal of the embargo on the sale of arms to warring nations, was scheduled to make the first address for his side of the neutrality controversy.

The neutrality bill would wipe out the embargo against the sale of armaments to warring countries, would require belligerents to take title to goods purchased in the United States before shipment and would require that American goods be carried to belligerents in non-American vessels. In addition, the President would be authorized to designate combat areas which American vessels and citizens could not enter.

GREATEST TEST

Pittman said that "no such grave situation has threatened the world in all history" as the current conflict abroad had aroused a feeling "of fear and distrust in the minds of all peoples," but added:

"There would seem to be, fortunately, no sufficient grounds for fear of being drawn into this war as we were forced into the last war, so long as we conform to the admitted precepts of international law and prevent our citizens from subjecting themselves to destruction in the mad war raging in Europe."

The Nevada senator said opponents of the legislation had contended repeal of the arms embargo would favor France and Great Britain, because they presumably would control sea commerce with the United States.

"We might put it the other way," Pittman argued, "and say that the maintenance of the embargo is a discrimination in favor of Germany, because it prevents Great Britain, which is surrounded by water, from purchasing in our market arms, ammunition and implements of war, while Germany, being a land power, has access to arms, ammunition and implements of war that may be manufactured in Russia, Italy, Rumania, Jugo-slavia and other countries."

TRUSTS ROOSEVELT

Pittman said he had "every confidence" in President Roosevelt's declaration that he intends to do everything possible to keep the United States out of war. Also, he said, he was confident Mr. Roosevelt would not misuse any discretionary powers granted him by neutrality legislation.

"Isn't it evident," he continued,
"that we can not through artificial laws with reference to imports by belligerent countries maintain either neutrality or equity?"

Citing the proposed prohibition against transportation of goods to belligerents in U.S. ships, Pittman contended that "if our vessels can not carry on commerce with belligerents and the belligerent powers know it, there will be little excuse, if any, for the destruction of American vessels on the high seas with the inevitable loss of the lives of our seamen."

He expressed the opinion that "it was the inhuman and illegal killing of our seamen on the high seas" which was responsible for this country's entry into the last war.

"Is there any doubt," Pittman asked, "that if Germany under its contention that submarines can not safely rise to the surface and search and seize contraband on a merchant vessel, it will eventually pursue the same policy as it pursued in March, 1917; is there any doubt that if the war lasts long enough and the situation of countries becomes desperate enough, they will resort to any form of destruction of contraband and vessels carrying contraband?"

AID TO JAPAN

Pittman said many people believed a prohibition against the sale of American armaments to belligerents "will entirely eliminate us from any part in the destruction of human lives during war."

"How mistaken and unfounded is this conception," he said. "We are participating in mass murder by the Japanese in China today."

He contended Japan was purchasing raw materials in the United States and using them to manufacture arms for the war in China.

Pittman supported a provision of the bill, criticized by Senators opposed to the legislation, which would permit belligerent governments to obtain credits up to 90 days on purchases in the United States.

He said 90-day credits were considered cash payments in international dealings.

BORAH'S OPINION

Senator William E. Borah (Republican, Idaho), reading a lengthy prepared address, charged the administration bill to revise the neutrality law had been accepted in Europe as an attempt to aid Great Britain and France in their struggle with Nazism.

Repeal of the embargo, he contended, would be likely to put this country in the position where it could not deny further help to the Allies.

"Can we," he demanded, "under the program we are now adopting and the reasons for adopting the same, stay off the battlefields of Europe with our young men?"

Having changed our laws and our policies that we may, as openly and repeatedly declared, send there in aid of the Allies our arms because of their urgent call, will we, can we, in the hour of greater need, should that hour unfortunately come, refuse to send our armies?

"Having put our hand to the plough and declared the reason therefor when the furrows are comparatively smooth, will we turn back when we come to the roots and stumps of impending defeat?"

"I do not see how we could. I doubt most seriously if we would.
The only way I see that we can stay out of this war, having taken the first steps and the reasons for taking them, is for the war to end before we get there."

CASH FOR ARMS

Senator Gillette (Democrat, Iowa) offered two amendments to the neutrality bill. One would require citizens of belligerent governments to pay cash for any armaments purchased in the United States. There would be no interference with the provision permitting belligerent governments to obtain credits up to 90 days.

The second amendment would prohibit belligerent governments from selling any securities in the United States. The bill as it stands would forbid the sale of only those securities issued after the act had been invoked.

Hitler's Proposals Sent to Mussolini

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN (AP)—Fuehrer Hitler today sent to Premier Mussolini what Nazis said were the three main points of his conversations with Il Duce's son-in-law, Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

These points were given authoritatively as:

1. The possibilities of the future in Europe, including Italy's share in what will or may happen.
2. Germany's conception of the various spheres of interest in eastern Europe.
3. The possibilities of giving effect to the German thesis that the European war should be ended now.

These sources intimated further that Hitler, in his speech before the Reichstag some time this week, would give the world Germany's conception of the peace possibilities.

Count Ciano left Berlin today for Rome, concluding the first conversations between the Rome-Berlin axis partners since the outbreak of war.

Although there was no official comment on the result of Ciano's conversations with Fuehrer Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, the speed with which they were concluded indicated to observers that the countries were in agreement on future moves.

Ciano arrived here only last evening.

Italian circles saw in Ciano's visit new reason for believing Premier Mussolini may assume the role of mediator in a "peace offensive" by the Reich.

12:02 p.m. (3:22 a.m., P.S.T.). He was accompanied to the station by Von Ribbentrop and other Nazi officials. These included
Col.-Gen. Wilhelm Kuehl, chief commander of the German armed forces as secretary of war; Heinrich Himmler, chief of the secret police; Robert Ley, Hitler's trade union commissioner, and Dr. Hans Lammers, member of the wartime ministerial council.

Observers speculating on Mus-solini's possible assumption of the role of mediator noted that semiofficial comment in Berlin stressed the "European mission" of Il Duce.

Well-informed sources, when asked to comment on the outcome of Ciano's visit, said:

"The visit speaks for itself—
no interpretation is necessary.
There will, however, be a final communique later."

British Planes Fly Over Berlin

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry announced today Royal Air Force planes had made a night reconnaissance flight over Berlin.

In making the announcement of the first British flight over the German capital, the air ministry said:

"Successful air reconnaissances by day and by night have again been carried out over Germany by the Royal Air Force.

"The night reconnaissances included Berlin and Potsdam." (Potsdam is the site of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm's palace.)

Meanwhile the government assured the House of Commons today that any enemy planes which try to raid London "will get the reception they deserve."

R. A. Butler, foreign undersecretary, made the statement in replying to questions from Josiah Wedgwood, Labor, who sought detailed reports from British officials formerly in Poland on the effects of German bombing there.

Mr. Wedgwood said such reports would give "some idea of what it would be here."

The undersecretary said detailed reports were not available at this time.

British Ready to Talk Trade With Russia

LONDON (CP)—British economic negotiations with the Soviet Union, Belgium, The Netherlands and Sweden, looking toward maintenance and possible extension of commercial exchanges, were reported in progress today or about to start.

British experts were said to be working out a plan for negotiations with Russian representatives, and it was believed these would start as soon as events have confirmed the Soviet Union's asserted neutrality in the conflict between Germany and the western powers.

On Ziegfried Line'

LONDON (CP)—The catchy little ditty, "We're Going to Hang Out the Washing on the Ziegfried Line" is being piped up in London night clubs and music halls as the first candidate to succeed "Tipperary."

With a tune somewhat reminiscent of "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," the words of the chorus go like this:

We're going to hang out the washing on the Ziegfried Line,
Have you any dirty washing, mother dear?

We're going to hang out the washing on the Ziegfried Line,
Cos the washing day is here.

Whether the weather may be wet or fine,
We'll just rub along without a care,

We're going to hang out the washing on the Ziegfried Line,
If the Ziegfried Line's still there.

At one music hall the chorus was printed on a sheet hung on a clothesline with "unmentionables" bearing the names of Hitler and various German leaders, and the audience joined in singing the song half a dozen times.

The song was written by Jimmy Kennedy and Michael Carr, both of Irish extraction.

TORONTO (CP)—All woolen

the next three months will be on a 5 per cent profit basis, according to an agreement with David C. Dick, government wool administrator.

Books will be checked and audited by authority of the administrator, it was disclosed today in a letter sent to all woolen dealers and organizations by Mr.
Dick.

"The government," said the letter, "expects full co-operation in this national emergency, to the extent of refraining from the purchase of crossbred wools (44s to 56s and crossbred tops up to 50s) from stocks in Canada in the hands of dealers or wool collectors, except against military contracts. This temporary mea-wool and tops for national pur-

U.S. Refuses to Admit Poland Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States refused today to recognize the disappearance of Poland which Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, termed the victim of force used as an instrument of national policy.

Mr. Hull said "mere seizure of territory does not extinguish the legal existence of a government."

The United States, therefore, he added, "continues to regard the government of Poland as in existence, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of Poland."

The Secretary read the statement to his press conference.
He said the United States would continue to recognize Count Jerzy Potocki as Polish ambassador to Washington, and the American ambassador to Poland, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, would remain near the Polish government, which has now gone to Paris.

Sportsmen Get Bravery Awards

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — The courage and gallantry shown by Jack Corcoran, Toronto, when his motorboat foundered in Lake Simcoe, July 8, has been recognized by the Royal Canadian Humane Association. The well-known sports promoter is awarded the association's bronze medal.

Philip Grandjean, Spanish River, Ont., is also named for the bronze medal for heroism and prompt action in preventing an explosion by moving a burning motor truck from nearby gasoline tanks at the northern Ontario town a year ago.

Corcoran, cruising with a party of six children and two women, noticed his boat was leaking when more than two miles from shore. The water gained rapidly and he told his young charges that if they got out in the weather there would not be so much danger of the boat sinking.

Life preservers were tied around the smallest children, from six to 10 years old, the others keeping afloat with the aid of boat cushions. Until the party was rescued nearly three hours later the sportsman swam around keeping the children together, shouting encouragement and leading them in prayer.

Grandjean entered the cab of a burning service truck and drove it some distance from gasoline storage tanks. He showed great presence of mind and his action prevented an explosion which might have resulted in heavy loss of life as many workers were in the vicinity.

He was badly burned but recovered in hospital at Espanola. A noted athlete, Grandjean was so severely injured that it is doubtful whether he will take part in sport again.

RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Twenty Ontario persons and three in Quebec receive parchment certificates for gallantry in aquatic and fire rescues.

B.C. MEN CITED FOR GALLANTRY

HAMILTON (CP) — John Anderson and James McK. Morrison of Vancouver have been awarded Royal Canadian Humane Association bronze medals for gallantry. Phillip Teece, Pender Island, B.C., parchment certificate for rescuing Arthur Nobbs and Norman Georgeson from drowning at Ganges, B.C.

When Thomas Graham and his son Frederick, overcome by gas, fell into a well at Cloverdale on July 25, 1938, Anderson descended the gas-filled well, 75 feet deep. He discovered the men were dead and made more descents before he recovered the bodies.

Morrison jumped from the ferry boat, West Vancouver, to rescue Oskar Erickson from drowning in Burrard Inlet, December 15, 1938. He supported Erickson, ultimately got him to the ferry boat, where he applied artificial respiration. Boats had been launched from the ferry but it was found impossible to get the men aboard the small craft owing to the heavy sea.

A parchment certificate was also awarded to a Saskatchewan girl, Ruth Lillian Wotton of Wapella won recognition for rescuing Eleanor Carson from drowning in the Wapella Dam, April 13.

Iron Guard Slays Two Premiers In Five Years

Back of the most recent assassination of a Rumanian premier are years of terrorism and suppression revolving around the Iron Guard, a militant pro-Nazi anti-Semitic organization which often has sought to take over the government. As a highlight of their early attempts to gain control, members of the Iron Guard assassinated Dr. Ion Duca, the premier, back in 1934. The premier was taking a train after an audience with King Carol, who fought his way to power against the Guard, when the slayers tossed a bomb and opened fire. The premier was put out of the way, but the attempted coup was a failure. The death intensified the government's anti-Guard stand. King Carol and Armand stand together for years. Calinescu ran the government as premier, and since last March as premier. Calinescu's appointment as premier, on the death of the Patriarch, Miron Cristea, was evidence of Carol's backing of his iron-fisted fight against the Iron Guard. Calinescu paid for the fight when he was killed en route to see the king. Eight men were at once executed for the slaying, others later. Leading figure in the Iron Guard for years was Corneliu Codreanu, who formed the organization and set out to be a Rumanian Hitler. In 1938, with 2,000 followers, he was jailed on charges of instigating a plot to kill Carol and set up a Nazi state. He had gone to Germany in 1936, it was charged, to get aid and promised to set up a regime friendly to the Reich. He was sentenced to 10 years in jail. Then in November, 1938, Codreanu and 13 associates, including Dr. Duca's assassins, were taken from prison by their guards and shot down when they "attempted to escape." The Iron Guard has carried on secretly since then from the impetus of Codreanu's original leadership.

Quebec Liberals Open Campaign

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec Liberal Party, girding itself for an attempt to overthrow Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale government in the October 25 general election, fired the opening shots of the campaign during the week-end.

Adelard Godbout, the party leader who served a short term as Premier before the Duplessis forces were swept into power in 1936, spoke at L'Islet and his House leader, Hon. T. D. Bouchard of St. Hyacinthe, spoke at Joliette.

Mr. Godbout accused the Premier of calling an election two years before the end of its term to take advantage of existing conditions and raise the question of conscription.

"Mr. Duplessis called the election because he wanted to capitalize on the uncertainty created by present conditions," Mr. Godbout said. "Mr. Duplessis would want us to forget that for three years he permitted anarchy to reign in all departments of the administration, permitted his friends to pillage the coffers of the province and threw millions away."

Mr. Godbout said he would "fight any government at Ottawa which decreed military conscription, so long as Germans are not on Canadian soil." He said he would leave his party if necessary.

Mr. Bouchard, in his address at Joliette, said the province was assured by Ottawa that the ideas of Quebec on conscription would be respected. Yet today, he said, when the Premier could capitalize on the anguish of fathers and mothers of families, Mr. Duplessis did not fear to launch Quebec into the torment of an election to serve the "low and shabby" interests of his party.

Mr. Bouchard said one reason why the election was called was because the province bordered on bankruptcy and that the Premier could not borrow either in Canada or the United States. He charged Mr. Duplessis was attempting to make the people believe he could not borrow because of Ottawa.

Churchill Says Allies Seek Decisive Victory

LONDON (CP) — Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, declares "it was for Hitler to say when the war would begin, but it is not for him or his successors to say when it will end."

Mr. Churchill, in a broadcast yesterday heard in Europe and carried across Canada and the United States, said Great Britain is determined to press the war against Germany "until decisive victory is gained."

How soon the war ends, he said, depends upon "how long Herr Hitler and his group of wicked men whose hands are stained with blood and sticky with corruption can keep their grip upon the docile, unhappy German people."

His voice ringing with confidence, the First Lord of the Admiralty said no British ship had been attacked by U-boats during the past week because of the navy's guard and he added:

"We have the oceans. We have the 20,000,000 of British citizens in the self-governing Dominions of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa."

"We believe we are entitled to the respect and good will of the world, and particularly of the United States."

Mr. Churchill referred to the "tremendous resources of Canada" in describing Britain's strength in facing a long war.

"We must always remember," he said, "that the command of the seas will enable us to bring the immense resources of Canada and the new world into play as a decisive ultimate air factor, beyond the reach of what we have to give and take over here."

THREE MAJOR EVENTS

He warned his listeners "we have not yet come at all to the severity of the fighting which is to be expected," but he listed "three important things" that have happened during the short course of hostilities:

1. Poland has been overrun by Germany and Soviet Russia, but the "soul of Poland is indestructible."

2. Russia's invasion of Poland created an eastern front "which Nazi Germany does not dare assail."

3. "A week has passed since a British ship alone or in convoy has been sunk or even molested on the high seas" and "it would seem that the U-boat attack upon the life of the British Isles has not so far proved successful."

"We must, of course, expect that the U-boat attack upon the seaborne commerce of the world will be renewed presently upon a greater scale," Mr. Churchill warned.

NUMEROUS HUNTERS

"We hope, however," Mr. Churchill continued, "that by the

On War Basis

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Norman Rogers, defence minister, has announced that between now and the end of the present college year, the training policy of the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., will be put on a wartime footing.

Fourth-year cadets are to be given immediate opportunity to take commissions in the Canadian forces. This offer will be extended to selected personnel of the third year class at Christmas time.

First and second year classes will continue their present courses until the end of the college year and refunds of fees and "necessary expenses" will be made proportionately. Mr. Rogers said 200 cadets are involved, divided approximately in a proportion of 50 to each of the four years.

Answering "reproaches of those who wish to throw themselves into the fight," Mr. Churchill reiterated Great Britain's determination to press the war "until decisive victory is gained."

"Meanwhile patriotic men and women and those who understand the high causes in human fortunes which are at stake must not only rise above fear, they must also rise above inconvenience and boredom," he warned. Mr. Churchill repeated Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement of Britain's war aims: "To redeem Europe from the perpetual and recurring fear of German aggression, and enable the people of Europe to preserve their independence and their liberties."

Mr. Churchill told those impatient for action "a large army has already gone to France. British armies upon the scale of effort of the Great War are in preparation."

RUSSIAN ENIGMA

On only one point did Mr. Churchill seem in doubt, and he phrased it in this way: "I cannot forecast the action of Russia. It is a riddle wrapped in mystery inside of an enigma."

Mr. Churchill spoke in friendly terms of Italy's neutrality. "We appreciate in England the reasons why this great and friendly nation of Italy, with whom we have never been at war, has not seen fit to enter the struggle," he said.

Mr. Churchill declared Russia has pursued a "cold policy of self-interests."

He asserted it could not be in Russia's interest "that Germany should plant itself upon the shores of the Black Sea, or that it should overrun the Balkan states and subjugate the Slavonic peoples of southeastern Europe."

The First Lord of the Admiralty said that "here the interests of Russia fall into the same channel as the interests of Britain and France," and "through the fog of confusion of uncertainty we may discern quite plainly the community of interests which exists between England, France and Russia to prevent the Nazis carrying the flames of war into the Balkans and Turkey."

made proportionately. Mr. Rogers said 200 cadets are involved, divided approximately in a proportion of 50 to each of the four years.

Mine Victim

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP) — The shipping council of Antwerp announced last night the 5,965-ton Belgian motorship Alex Van Opstal, sunk off Weymouth, England, September 15, struck a mine and was not torpedoed. (The British Information Ministry on that date said the vessel either was torpedoed by a German submarine or had struck a German mine. The ministry said British minelayers had not placed mines off the east coast of England.)

Russia Presses Latvia for Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Russia summoned Latvia's foreign minister to Moscow today for the purpose, informed quarters said, of negotiating a "nonaggression" pact giving Russia military and naval concessions similar to those she recently obtained from Estonia.

The Latvian minister, William Munters, was expected to arrive here by airplane about 5.30 p.m. (6.30 a.m., P.S.T.).

The Latvian legation said merely that Munters was coming "to clear up the situation created in the Baltic by Soviet-German and Soviet-Estonian pacts."

Latvia, which has excellent harbors—some of which are fortified—on the Gulf of Riga and on the Baltic, provides a natural trade outlet for Russian shipments to the west.

An agreement with Latvia similar to the one Russia already has made with Estonia would strengthen the Soviet position in the Baltic.

Unofficial reports from abroad said Russia had shifted 20 divisions of troops from the Estonian border to the Latvian frontier, but there was no confirmation of these rumors here.

BALKAN MOVES

Announcements of the Latvian minister's impending visit was coupled with indications that Russia is seeking to bolster her position in the southeast by formulating a plan to keep the Balkans neutral under the leadership of the Kremlin.

Presentation of this plan, in formed quarters expected, would be accompanied by demands on Rumania for return of Bessarabia, the oil region which Russia lost after the last war.

The Russian program, diplomatic circles said, calls for an agreement with Turkey designed to strengthen the Soviet position in the Black Sea. Moscow, they declared, seeks to prevent Turkey from reaching any agreement with France and Great Britain that would leave the Dardanelles, entrance to the Black Sea, open to allied warships in event of conflict with the Soviet.

This situation, it was believed, was the subject of a four-hour conference last night at the Kremlin between the Turkish foreign minister, Sukru Saracoglu, Premier Vyacheslav Molotov and Joseph Stalin.

Also participating in the conference were Foreign Vice-commissioner Vladimir Potemkin, the Soviet ambassador to Turkey and the Turkish ambassador to Moscow.

The meeting delayed the scheduled departure of the Turkish officials, who met the French and British envoys in a mysterious conference in Moscow Saturday.

Meanwhile reports which neither the Russian nor Rumanian capitals would confirm said Rumania's foreign minister, rigore Gafencu, would arrive here within the next day or two.

It was expected Russia would make his visit the occasion for presenting a Balkan peace plan as well as for demanding return of Bessarabia.

ALLIED LEADERS CALM

British and French quarters in Moscow showed no concern over these developments on the diplomatic front. Instead, they indicated they would be pleased if the negotiations resulted in confining the war to western Europe.

There was no official comment here on developments in Poland, but there were indications Russia had begun an anti-religious campaign in the newly won Polish Ukraine and White Russian territories.

Pravda, the only Moscow newspaper published Sunday, gave prominence to a speech of Emelian Yaroslavsky, head of the "Godless League," in which he said the Polish landlord class had forced religion on peasant workers.

"We must explain to the liberated peasants and workers that the church never has done anything for them in their fight for liberty," he declared.

Pulp Mills Reopen In Washington

WEST LINN, Ore. (AP) — Plans for immediate reopening of three northwest pulp mills were reported by John Sherman of Port Angeles, vice-president of A.F. of L.'s international sulphite and paper mill workers, at a meeting of the Oregon committee of the union here.

He said the mills were at Tacoma and Anacortes, Wash., and Empire, Ore. He said the mills, idle for two years, would employ about 800 men.

6 Killed When Dutch Ship Hits Mine

THE HAGUE (AP) — One naval officer and five seamen were killed yesterday when The Netherlands minesweeper Jan Van Gelder struck a floating mine near the Island of Terschelling off the northern coast of Holland.

A government press service announcement said the 525-ton ship was damaged severely and that four of her crew were injured, three seriously.

Two bodies were recovered. The sweeper was towed into west Terschelling port.

The Nazi command declared the first German troops had moved into Warsaw yesterday and that occupation of the city was proceeding without incident.

THE GOVERNMENT TESTS ALL GAS AND ELECTRICITY METERS... for accuracy

BECAUSE the inspection and testing of meters is carried on continuously the meter that is found to have developed the slightest defect is promptly removed from service. All meters installed for the purpose of computing the amount of electricity or gas that has been used—and for which a charge is established—all such meters are required by acts of parliament to be inspected every six years. To control and inspect the approximately 2,658,317 meters in use in Canada, 20 offices have been established throughout the Dominion. These are in charge of the Electricity and Gas Inspection Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

ALL METERS ARE INDEXED

Canada is divided into twenty districts; each with a senior officer of the Electricity and Gas Inspection Service in charge. About 100 inspectors operate from the combined 20 offices. Each office keeps a complete record of meters in the district and all records are kept up-to-date and instantly available. The meters inspected range in size from the smallest required for domestic use, to the very largest employed for industrial and commercial purposes. Every meter in use bears the government seal which signifies that the meter was inspected and found accurate. This seal also prevents the meter from being opened and tampered with. Government supervision of this kind forms a protection for all Canadian Citizens who buy or sell electricity, manufactured gas or natural gas.

CANADA LED THE WORLD IN THIS SERVICE

For many years after gas came into use there was no periodic inspection of gas meters in any country in the world. But the Confederation of Canada had been established only 8 years when the Federal Government caused the Gas Inspection Act to come into force in 1875. Then in 1894 a similar Electricity Inspection Act was passed. In adopting these protective policies, Canada led all other countries. Known now as the Electricity and Gas Inspection Service, this branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, is really the pioneer of this form of public service the world over.

NO METER CAN BE INSTALLED WITHOUT THE GOVERNMENT SEAL

The Electricity and Gas Inspection Acts render the Government responsible for the type of meters placed in general use. Before they can be used every type of meter must be approved. And every new meter of every type is inspected for accuracy before it can be installed for service. The seal of the Department of Trade and Commerce which is placed on all meters, is therefore of prime importance to the citizens who buy or sell electricity or gas.

This Government Seal is your guarantee that the meter has been officially approved, inspected and found accurate. The seal also prevents tampering with or manipulation of the meter's mechanism.

Churchill Speaks

IF ADOLF HITLER HAD NURSED ANY hopes for his anticipated peace proposals, or any special ray of encouragement from Great Britain, Mr. Churchill dashed them to the ground yesterday when he presented an unvarnished account of the first month of the war and related in unequivocal terms how his country and its partners in the Empire propose to proceed with it. Punctuated with no heroics, no fulsome pride of achievement, no rosy predictions, it was a recital of fact and sound reasoning from which British peoples everywhere must have drawn substantial comfort.

As the First Lord of the Admiralty very appropriately reminded the millions who heard his voice in the remote corners of the globe, Adolf Hitler began the war when he considered the time suitable to his purpose, "but it will end only when we are convinced that he has had enough." In this statement is reflected Great Britain's resolve to finish what it has begun and finish it so that Europe may be redeemed from the "perpetual and recurring fear" of German aggression, so that its peoples may be permitted to preserve their "independence and liberties."

While Mr. Churchill did not pretend to be in a position to penetrate the most recent understanding reached between Russia and the Nazi realm, his allusion to the Black Sea in particular and Southeastern Europe in general indicated his support for the contention held by all who have followed the trend of German policy since the dawn of the present century—that the Soviet will tolerate no serious bid for Germanic hegemony as a prelude to the application of the original Drang nach Osten policy. Russia's life interest is involved in the preservation of the Slavic peoples, and "these interests fall into the same channels" as the interests of Great Britain and France. And, by the same token, the interests of Italy—which has not forgotten the friendship of Gladstone's Britain—are linked up with that European area now coveted by the head of the Nazi state as it was for years by former rulers of the German Reich.

Although last week's intriguing and interesting negotiations in Moscow seem to have cast the shadow of coming events by which it would be almost unkind to suggest Hitler himself is not fooled, it can be taken as well within the realm of fact that Josef Stalin's benevolent neutrality retaining fee will have to be followed by repeated and substantial "refreshers." For, having obtained so much, territorially and politically, at the cheapest price knocked down on the international bargain counter for many a day, the ruler of Soviet Russia is scarcely the man to leave the scene or embroil himself too actively while there is so much to gain—also for a mere bagatelle—by using those adroit formulas of double-cross in the exercise of which Hitler is but a child in arms.

Josef The Fox

TO WHAT EXTENT JOSEF STALIN HAS exerted himself to support Germany's efforts to detach Turkey from the Anglo-French alliance will probably not be known until the mystery surrounding the latest Nazi-Soviet "deal" has been cleared away.

Russia and Turkey have been on good terms for several years. Nor is there any reason to suppose that because the Turkish Foreign Minister was required to cool his heels for a day or so in Moscow last week—while Germany's Joachim von Ribbentrop did his business—signifies anything ominous. Even a Stalin must show some measure of decorum in his dealings, double or otherwise, especially when apparent necessity drives.

Turkey may desire a safety clause in her undertaking to Britain and France, excusing her, for example, from an obligation to fight against Russia. But the fact that a military mission from Ankara already is on its way to London would indicate that the main points of the original agreement will stand.

The Issue Joined

IT IS EVIDENT PREMIER DUPLESSIS thinks he can win Quebec's provincial election next month or he would not have called it nearly two years before the expiry of his government's statutory term. But even though he had complete control of the last Parliament, with more than 70 members out of the 90 who comprise the Legislative Assembly, his introduction of a challenge to federal authority has engaged him to a fight into which will be introduced national as well as purely provincial questions.

In order that the record shall be straight from the outset, Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Dominion Minister of Justice and member of the House of Commons for Quebec East, has issued the following statement in which the issue is fairly joined.

"If the controversy had remained purely provincial, we should have strictly abstained from any intervention. But Mr. Duplessis has believed it his duty not only to precipitate an election in a critical period and to sow seeds of discord at a time when national union is a sacred duty, but he has made the criticism of the federal government an issue of that election, and more particularly the criticism of the measures taken for the purpose of assuring the effectiveness and the success of the effort of Canada in the present conflict. A verdict in his favor would be a verdict against us. Under such circumstances, we cannot remain indifferent, and our duty is to take up this unprovoked challenge.

"My colleagues and I, who are representing the province in the government of the country, need the confidence and the support of our fellow countrymen in order to have and to keep such authority as is necessary to the defence of their interests. I shall respectfully accept the decision of the people of my province, my colleagues from Quebec will accept it."

The chief complaint against the Dominion Government which Mr. Duplessis proposes to air on the public platform is that it has assumed authority to control the Dominion's financing under the War Measures Act. He exposes himself to effective attack on this point alone. Moreover, if he should choose to unearth the conscription issue, he would also be on unsafe ground. Prime Minister Mackenzie King has said his government will not initiate such a policy. Mr. Lapointe warned that were his leader to depart from that resolve he and his Quebec colleagues would leave the ministry.

When all this is added together it would seem to suggest a lively campaign—with no quarter asked and none given or expected. But it is well to remember that Mr. Duplessis has a large following; and it may be too large to overcome. But victory with any substantial reduction need not be considered as anything in the nature of an impressive vote against the national policy.

Fraying Adolf's Nerves

IT IS NOT GIVEN TO US TO PENETRATE the labyrinthine fastnesses of Adolf Hitler's extraordinary mind; but we feel inclined to hazard a small wager that the flight of Royal Air Force machines over Berlin and its 16-mile-distant suburb of Potsdam yesterday played more havoc with his nerves than if they had dropped a ton of explosives on Unter den Linden.

Far be it from us to wade out into the deep waters of military strategy, or to belittle the impatience doubtless felt in some quarters over a waste of such an opportunity to frighten the daylight out of Berlin's Nazi rulers. But this latest flight of Britain's birdmen will convey to the German people much more effectively than any other method that could be employed how their cities would fare if Adolf should give the order for unrestricted bombing of Britain and France.

Nor is it difficult to imagine how the occupants of those machines felt as they gazed down on the slowly-flowing Spree, the Brandenburg Gate, or the Tempelhof air-drome. How they could have misplaced a few stones in Hitler's new chancellery! But Britain is obviously in no hurry to free Adolf from the fear of his own "senseless ambitions." And Der Fuehrer seems in no mood to send his engines of death over Britain's countryside. Nor has he shown any inclination so far to do what the Franco-British High Command would like him to do on the western front. He hesitates to launch the "grand push."

The German people, however, will not fail to be impressed by the fact that British planes have not dropped anything more explosive over the Reich's cities and countryside than reading matter. And it is much better politics—if not better strategy—for Britain and France to leave it to Adolf to begin the type of warfare in the west which gave him most of his "victory" in Poland.

As we understand it, profiteering is what the other fellow indulges in.

There's no telling what Richard Wagner, Der Fuehrer's favorite composer, would do under the Nazi regime. Probably write, as F.P.A., the columnist, suggests, "Hitler-daemmerung."

Japan's 'Goom-by, Please'

From the Daily News

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington follows:
"Japanese Ambassador Kenseku Horinouchi said today that the Japanese had begun informal talks with Great Britain and France in an effort to get them to withdraw their troops in China."

"The ambassador said in a press conference that 'friendly advice' had been given by Japan to Britain, France, Germany and Poland that belligerents must withdraw their forces from China. Britain and France are the only belligerents having forces there."

Japan's "goom-by, please" invitation to the British and French is about as cool and bold-faced an attempt to fish in troubled waters as we've witnessed in some time. Britain and France being mixed up in another European war, Japan proceeds to give their honorable tails another twist in Asia.

Not that we're in favor of the treaty port, extraterritoriality business. The Chinese themselves don't like it. It is constant annoyance to them.

If it could be quietly liquidated and all rightful Chinese ground restored to the Chinese, we think British, French and other foreign business people would do better business in China. China is waking up—driving railroads through once sacred ancient graveyards, developing more and more demand for western products and so on.

But should the white man get out of China merely to let the Japanese move in and take complete control, as happened some years ago in Manchuria, now Manchukuo?

If the white man quits China on a nod from Japan, Japan will collar all the Chinese business it can and freeze out all the white business it can, as it has done in Manchukuo. And if Japan conquers China, Japan will get set for world conquest.

Thoughts

Good has but one enemy, the evil; but the evil has two enemies, the good and itself.—J. Von Muller

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

THE CHILDREN LEAVE

THE FIRST BROWN OAK LEAVES fell here today. They fluttered down, one by one, from the great oak that stands alone in the middle of the field yonder. The other leaves, still green and afraid, watched their brothers fly away on the west wind, and clung closer to their mother. For 300 years she has sent her children out into the world at this season, but she is loath to lose them, as always, and they hesitate to go.

In a few days now they will pluck up their courage. See how they are turning brown already against the hillside, taking off the soft, green clothing of spring and putting on the bronze armor of autumn, for this is their season of adventuring.

See how the first darning leaves race across the field with sudden new life. Yesterday they had no power of movement and must watch the changing procession of the year sweep by, unable to join it. Now, as the procession draws to a close, as the year's pageant sweeps into a climax of bloom and fruit, of ripeness and color, the leaves are freed for their quest.

TIME IS SHORT

THEIR TIME WILL BE SHORT, so they must move fast. See how they roll across the bare stubble land and suffer their first casualties in the big ditch from which some will never escape. See how the others rush on down the hill, scampering among the white seagulls that are here to follow George Puddbury's plough. Some choose the main road and are crushed under the wheels of the farm wagons as they bring the late corn in, but an oak leaf is made of substantial stuff and it will be weeks yet before the weakest of them begins to wilt or tire.

They are beginning to pour down the mossy rocks of the hillside now in a little trickle of brown color, and soon they will make cataracts, lakes and swirling rivers. Some will sweep on and on until they drop exhausted into Mr. Puddbury's furrows. Some, less daring, will snuggle into the cosy nooks and corners of my rock garden or hide under the hedge. But they can't escape me and nature. All of them must be gathered in and piled up on the compost heap, where, at last, they must go back to the earth from which they came. A few will escape me, but none will escape nature, so they must hurry now if they want to see the world.

PLUMS

ALMOST AS FAST, the last plums are falling down and we scramble to pick them, for a man who owns a plum tree is a prisoner to it and to his friends. Day after day we have been climbing the ancient plum trees, clinging by hands and legs, risking life and limb, performing circus feats without nets below, just to serve the trees and our friends.

We don't care so much about the friends, but you can't let these great trees bear in vain. So every year we gather the fruit and tell our friends, knowing they won't, to come and get it. We used to ask them to pick it, but we soon found that was no use. The modern householder expects you to pick this free gift of fruit and bring it to the door in wooden boxes which you have paid for with your own money. Indeed, our friends are beginning to complain that we haven't wrapped the gift of plums in Cellophane and they threaten to get their free fruit from someone else who is more particular. They know, of course, that they can afford to be fussy because we will never let the plums go unpicked. The ancient trees, which were here before us and will be here long afterwards, would never forgive us.

The city man never sees the work that goes into producing those plums, the pruning, spraying, cultivating and picking. He seems to think that plums are easy to come by, as if they grew on trees like dollar bills. And there is nothing quite so trying to the country man at this season as to take a city man through his garden and hear him exclaim: "What wonderful tomatoes! What cucumbers and squashes! They just grow for some people, I suppose. You have to be born with the instinct for them, but they will never grow for me."

No, they will never grow for you, sir, because you never plant them, never dig the cold earth of March, nor cultivate the hot earth of July, never rush out on frosty nights to cover seedlings with old sacks and the spare eiderdown quilt. To such city people there is only one answer. Heap their car full of marrows, fill their pockets full of tomatoes (hoping they'll leak on the way home), overwhelm them with apples and shame. But city folks are not easily ashamed. They will thank you and secretly they will compare your products with the Chinese peddler's, they will note every blemish on your squash, every spot on your tomatoes, and they will even complain if there is poisonous arsenic spray on your apples.

In fact, if you press them too far, they will threaten to refuse to accept your products for nothing next year, and at this threat every gardener wails. Next year we are going to wrap our plums in Cellophane.

GOOD-BYE AGAIN

Go, lovely rose, whose thorns have sought to stick me.
You waste your sweetness on the desert air.
Go, lovely rose, now seek again to trick me;
Than here I'd rather you were anywhere.

Go, lovely rose, nor stand upon your going;
It's allergy, not love, you rouse, and so There's not a thing to reap from all your sowing.
Go, lovely rose; go anywhere, but go!
F. E. DUP.

What Stalin Wants

By FOREIGN OBSERVER

AFTER THE TWO "surprises" inflicted in quick succession upon the democracies of Europe by Stalin, with his "protective" invasion of Poland coming almost before the diplomats had recovered from his nonaggression pact with Germany, it is possible to see clearly what the real basis was for agreement between the Kremlin and the Wilhelmstrasse.

Simply stated, it was fear of the British Empire, and a desire to destroy it. This does not mean Stalin feels he is in a position to join the fight against Britain immediately in any very effective way. It does mean, however, that Hitler and Stalin, first pushing down into the Balkans, hope that the outcome of the present war will be the destruction of the British Empire.

This would automatically involve the destruction of the French Empire, and the passing of the two together would remove any effective protection from the valuable eastern holdings of the Netherlands. On paper, the possibility of distributing such rich booty would seem to provide a means of offering Japan sufficiently attractive future gains to persuade her to join actively in the effort.

BACKGROUND OF HATE

Of course, Hitler sought to placate Great Britain as long as he was weak and saw the possibility of securing concessions by these means. But in the back of his mind he always has realized that London, and not Paris, was the real power blocking German hopes of dominating western Europe. Add to that his long-frustrated desire to secure the return of Germany's pre-war colonies, and pile on that his new dreams that, after all, it would be just as easy to secure far wider gains at the expense of the British as it would to secure the former colonies, and one hardly need even to evaluate his psychological hatred of anything that has been big and strong for so long—one sees why he considered it a small sacrifice to make a deal with the Soviet Union.

Stalin, likewise, sent his troops into Poland and so much for the announced purpose of "protecting" White Russians and Ukrainians, not so much even for the purpose of adding a few thousand square miles of marshy Poland land to his dominions, but with the definite idea of collaborating with Hitler in the eventual overthrow of Britain. Even before there was a Soviet government, Britain and Russia were rivals in the Far East and in Persia, and Britain was uneasily conscious that north of the borders of India lay the Russian colossus. Again, it was Britain who blocked the age-old Russian ambition to control Constantinople and, with it, Russia's warm-water outlet to the west. Then, immediately after the World War, Britain took a lead in the abortive effort of the Allied and associated powers to put an end to the Communist control of Russia.

Since then, Stalin's ire has been aroused by the way in which his efforts to play a leading role at Geneva, ostensibly in the interests of collective security—were rebuffed, again under British leadership. Thus he, like Hitler, has emotional as well as material reasons for desiring the downfall of Britain. He did not hesitate to put himself in a position where Britain and France had the same reason for declaring war on Russia as they did for opening hostilities against Germany.

TEST OF PARIS

Now, Hitler wanted to continue his attainment of objectives without bloodshed, and therefore without wear and tear on his military machine, as long as possible. Stalin also wished to avoid the risk and unpredictable shocks of war. Therefore, they still plan to make peace overtures, but suspect that British statesmen—Winston Churchill is now in the Cabinet, not in the Opposition—realize what their ultimate aim is, and as a result will consent to no truce. The peace offers, consequently, will be made most attractive to France, in the hope that that country, rather than batter itself against the Siegfried Line or withstand assaults on the Maginot Line, possibly for years, will make peace whether or not England desires it.

But here the French, whose long history has given them an ingrained tendency not to be too trusting, are further protected by recent bitter experience of what they consider to have been the duplicity of both Hitler and Stalin. They know, too, that if the British are lost, they, too, are lost.

Thus, any change in the announced determination of the British and French to stand together until their enemies are defeated would be even more amazing than the unorthodox events which have occurred in international affairs in recent weeks.

HERR COMRADE MUSSOLINI

To the south, Premier Mussolini, who was already making speeches about totalitarian invincibility when Hitler was a second-rate agitator and Stalin was a Communist, is still neutral; but he faces the probability that before next spring he must make his choice between becoming the least of a Stalin-Hitler-Duce triumvirate seeking to dominate the world, or of joining Italy's old allies, Britain and France, in the drive to stop the dominating Fuehrer.

Either way, he stands to lose rather than gain, and he knows it, but the developments are likely to be such that he will no longer find it possible to remain neutral.

In the end, it is most probable that he will follow the simple expedient of choosing that side which at the moment happens to be nearest victory. And the Anglo-French strength can be expected to make its best showing in the very long run, rather than in the months immediately ahead.

PERSISTENCE

From New York Post

John Gunther is telling this story to his colleagues in Europe: Sixteen years ago Eamon de Valera addressed a street-corner meeting in Innis, Ireland. British officials interrupted that speech by arresting De Valera, who then was sentenced to imprisonment for one year. When he had served that jail term De Valera immediately returned to that same street corner in Innis, ascended the speaker's stand and began: "Well, as I was saying . . ."

The Censor Orders

Censorship regulations are now in effect under the War Measures Act. On Canada's declaration of war, general directions were issued to the press and radio stations by the censorship authorities, and these general directions have now been followed by detailed instructions which have the full authority of law.

The regulations, which are voluminous, generally prohibit the making or publication of:

Any adverse or unfavorable statement, report or opinion likely to prejudice the defence of Canada or the efficient prosecution of the war.

Any report or statement likely to cause disaffection to His Majesty or to prejudice His Majesty's relations with foreign powers.

Any report or statement likely to prejudice the recruiting, training, discipline or administration of the forces.

Any information with respect to the movements, numbers, etc., of any of the armed forces of the Allies, or relating to the storage of war material, fortifications, etc.

Any leaflet or pamphlet relating to the war or to the making of peace which does not carry the name and address of author and printer.

All copies of any newspaper, tract, periodical, book, circular or other printed publication contravening the regulations may be seized and radio station licenses may be suspended or canceled. Other penalties by way of fine and imprisonment are provided for infraction of the regulations, which apply not only to newspapers and radio stations, but to those who speak at public meetings.

"The regulations," said W. S. Thompson, director of censorship, "were drawn up as a result of conferences between departments of the Public Service. They will be amended from time to time as experience in their operation suggests, as it is realized that no set of regulations can deal fully with all the problems which will arise. We know that we will have the co-operation of all concerned, and in turn, the censors will give decisions promptly and render a broad advisory service for the guidance of the public. The co-operation of the municipal and other authorities who own halls where public meetings are held will be particularly appreciated in order that the regulations may be carried out."

CAN'T GET 'EM UP IN THE MORNING

From L'Illustré (Lausanne)
The fond mother wrote to her son who was on military service: "I hope that you have now learned to get up punctually every morning so that you do not keep the whole battalion waiting for breakfast."

Correct this sentence: "I love to play with Bill," said she, "for he points out my mistakes after each hand is played."

THOMAS PAINE'S WAY

To the Editor:—If the principles of government and the philosophy of life as laid down by Thomas Paine were established by the governments of Europe they would prevent the rise of a maniac like Hitler and insure a firm foundation for a lasting and permanent peace among the peoples of the earth. He said:

"An army of principles will penetrate where an army of soldiers cannot; it will succeed where diplomatic management would fail; it is neither the Rhine, the Channel nor the ocean that can arrest its progress; it will march on the horizon of the world and it will conquer."

And if the League of Nations—the child of Paine's "Maritime Compact"—had been put into effect as he formulated it this present conflict would never have occurred.

JOSEPH LEWIS.

THE TRYING HOURS

Alfred Duff Cooper, former First Lord of the Admiralty: "Those of us whose melancholy privilege it is to have survived one war will remember that both for soldiers at the front and for civilians at home the greatest trials were not the moments of danger but the long hours, the days, the weeks of uneventful boredom."

Golden Wedding of Well-known Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Duck Married Here On October 2, 1889

Mr. and Mrs. William Duck, two well-known pioneer residents, are quietly celebrating their golden wedding today and will be "at home" to their friends this evening from 8 till 10 at their home, 956 North Park Street.

They were married in Victoria, the following account of their wedding appearing in the local press of October 3, 1889:

"The residence of Mr. George North, Johnson Street, was the scene of a happy event last evening, when in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends the marriage of his eldest daughter Ada to Wm. Duck, only son of Simeon Duck, M.P.P., was solemnized, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge officiating. The groom was supported by Thos. Burnes and Miss Alice Gosnell officiated as bridesmaid. During the evening a sumptuous wedding supper was partaken of and the evening spent in pleasant conversation.

"About 11 o'clock, the Queen City band, of which the groom is a popular member, serenaded the newly-married couple, and being invited in did justice to a table, as one of the invited expressed it, 'that words fail to describe'.

"The principals were the recipients of numerous costly and useful presents, amongst which was a splendid piano from the groom's father, a beautiful seal skin sack, the gift of Mrs. S. Duck, a costly clock, the gift of the Queen City band, and a silver tea service from the Amity baseball club. Mr. Duck and his lovely young bride start out on the sea of life under most auspicious circumstances with the warmest wishes of all."

Mr. and Mrs. Duck, who have lived in Victoria ever since their wedding, have one son, Dr. C. W. Duck, and one daughter, Mrs. Ilma South, both of Victoria, also two grandchildren, Beverly Souff and Thirley Duck.

Russian Women in Army in Poland

Stalin Sends Girl Aviators and Chauffeurs With Forces

BREST LITOVSK (Within Russian-occupied Poland) (AP)—Ruddy-cheeked Communist women are included in the Red Army forces sent into Poland in the Soviet Russian invasion from the east.

Joseph Stalin dispatched part of the women's forces in the army to help occupy this former Polish section of the White Russian Ukraine.

The women are chiefly aviators and chauffeurs.

Seven women aviators and a number of chauffeurs are stationed at the sectional army headquarters here.

They have separate quarters and wear two types of uniforms—one of regular Red Army style and the other with a skirt.

The women fliers were said to perform their duties of flying bombing planes, bombing and machine-gunning under war conditions as competently as their military brothers.

Despite the equality which governs the Red Army, the feminine corps receives a little more attention than the men.

Both brides made an attractive picture in their suits of coral blue, handknitted by their mother, with which they wore small white hats and veils and corsage bouquets of gardenias. The elder by ten minutes, Miss Helen Standerwick was married first, attended by her sister, for whom she later acted as matron of honor.

A small reception was held at the home of the brides' parents, where a profusion of flowers had been arranged, during which the couples stood before the sideboard, which was banked with flowers, to receive the greetings of their friends. Mrs. Standerwick received the guests in a gown of blue embroidered sheer, with a black hat and accessories, assisted by Mrs. Kemschaw, wearing a green dress with a lace coat, and black hat, both wearing corsages of roses.

The supper table, covered with a Madeira cutwork and lace cloth, was centred with a large silver basket of pink and white carnations, flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra. The two tiered bride's cakes, made by Mrs. Standerwick and decorated by Mrs. Ashworth, an old friend of the family, occupied either end of the table, that for Helen being topped with an ornament from her mother's bridal cake. Mr. Maurice Pickering proposed the toast to the brides.

After wedding trips to unannounced destinations, both couples will return to Victoria to live.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kemschaw, Vancouver, were guests at the weddings.

WIDE ADVERTISING DRIVE IN U.S. URGED

Officials of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau Saturday endorsed a resolution asking the Dominion Government to arrange an advertising and publicity campaign in American newspaper enlightening United States tourists on the official regulations covering entry into Canada, and also the amount of American currency they may bring in and take out of Canada.

The resolution is sponsored by the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, of which the local bureau is a member.

It is felt by the executive of the parent body that publication of the regulations introduced since Canada's entry into the war, would make clear the free and easy entry into Canada by United States citizens.

Word from Ottawa, Friday indicated that efforts would be made to remove from the minds of United States citizens who are potential tourists to Canada, any impression that the war has brought border regulations tending to make travel difficult.

George I. Warren, Victoria's publicity commissioner, urges that a big campaign be launched in the United States to turn 1940 travel in the direction of Canada. The war, he believed, would kill travel to Europe and other parts of the world.

Tailor Measures House Pages

Tables are turned this year. Uniforms will be made to fit pages instead of pages being squeezed into uniforms.

Nine lads who will act as pages for the forthcoming session of the Legislature reported at the buildings today to be measured for new uniforms.

It is four years since the last uniforms were made. As a rule pages have to be selected to fit so the uniforms can be used each year.

The new tunics are dark blue and red. The old ones were light blue and red.

City Hall Topics

Taxpayers of Victoria, whose 1939 city levies are still outstanding, were warned by G. A. Okell, city assessor-collector, today that today would be the last day on which payments on current accounts would be accepted without imposition of a penalty. On Tuesday the first of a series of extra charges will be levied. The first penalty will amount to 1 per cent.

Under the auspices of the Christian Education Committee of the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, a Sunday School Convention will be held in Centennial United Church Friday next. Rev. D. Forsyth, national boys' work secretary of the board of Christian Education, and Roy Belford, representative of the United Church's board of publication will speak. The afternoon session will commence at 3, the supper session at 6 and the evening meeting at 7.30.

One medical writer reports that ordinarily people harboring less than 40 hookworms show no clinical symptoms.

ON GUARD

TODAY, as in 1914, we stand On Guard in the defence of our homes and our freedom.

As a united Canadian people we face the fact of war with courage and fortitude. Only through unity of effort can we efficiently mobilize our resources in the cause of peace and justice.

As individuals, we stand On Guard—ready to make personal sacrifices—prompt to render what service we can for Canada and the Empire.

Let us be On Guard against the petty dissensions which weaken national effort. Let the same spirit which leads Canadians to enlist for active service, inspire those who serve on the home front.

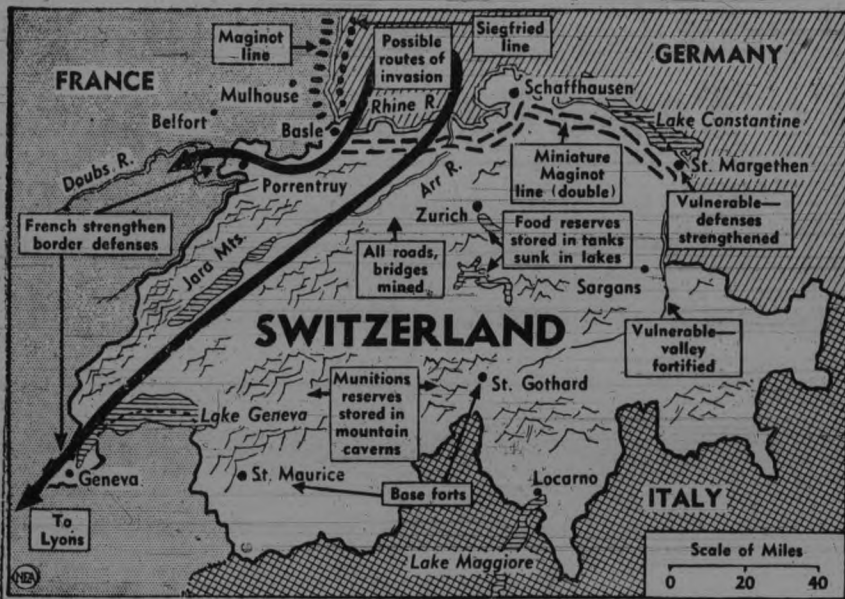

Meanwhile, Life Insurance stands On Guard over the interests of Four Million policyholders and their beneficiaries. The record of Life Insurance in every previous national emergency commands the confidence of every Canadian.

FEAR SWISS LIE IN NAZI'S PATH TO FRANCE—Allies fear Germany may become a German war path into France. In his first press interview since the war, Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels said that the neutrality of Holland and Belgium will be held inviolate. Significantly, no mention was made of Switzerland, so far as press reports indicate. Map shows possible Nazi routes to France and indicate the Swiss plans of defence.

MESSAGES TO HITLER—While a corporal on bended knee strums out a tune, these British Tommies pose cheerfully as they are entrained at London for the English coast, for France and the western front. In this picture radioed from London, the neat messages to Hitler are plainly shown on the door and side of the railway carriage and the troops seem determined to see that they are "delivered."

PRIVATE CROLL—David Croll, mayor of Windsor, Ont., and former Ontario minister of welfare, who has passed a medical examination and will be eligible to enlist in a few days as a private in the Essex Scottish Regiment, Windsor, Ont.

INVADERS SLICE POLAND AGAIN—Fourth partition of Poland, fixed by German and Russian military commands, is shown by the heavy line. The Russians will occupy all Poland east of the line, the Germans taking the area to the west. The line follows the course of four rivers indicated. Later, a Polish buffer state between Russia and Poland may be set up.

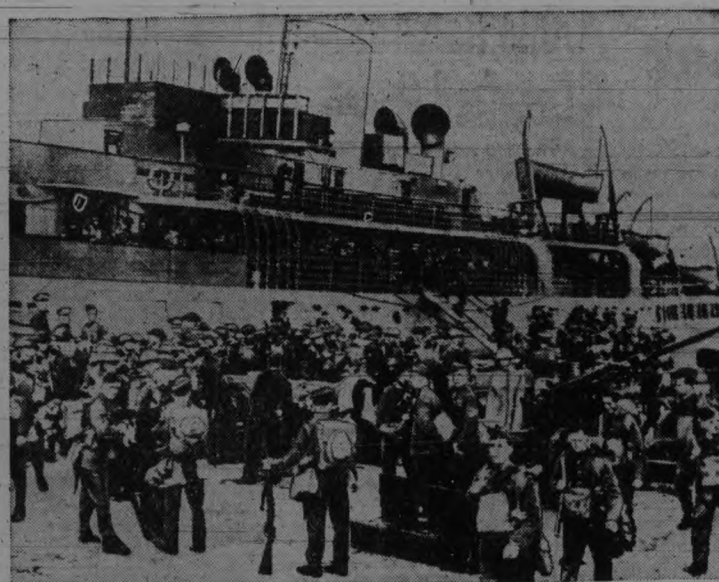

Sir Edward Ellington, now inspector-general of England's air forces, is expected to command the air forces of the allies. Sir Edward, a 62-year-old bachelor, joined the Royal Air Force in 1913 and served in France from 1914 to 1918. He assumed his present position last January.

WINDSOR WEARS ARMY UNIFORM—Reported somewhere in France in the major-general's uniform he wears here, the Duke of Windsor is in active service with the British army. The Duchess is reported today going to France to join him.

NEW DEAL FOR SOLDIERS—Smart, and also comfortable, is the new regulation uniform to be worn by Canadian overseas forces. Not unlike a ski suit, the jacket is belted in, windbreaker fashion. Off duty the trousers can be worn as slacks, lower, but for regular wear the cuffs are enclosed by a six-inch canvas gaiter, replacing puttees. Upper pictures show how the forage cap can be adapted to cold-weather wear. And there are no brass buttons to polish.

'TOURISTS' FRANCE WELCOMES TODAY—While Russia and Germany make deals involving eastern Europe, the Anglo-French military accord gets concrete reinforcement as British troops pour into France. Radiophoto at left, British soldiers disembark "somewhere in France." Right, "Tommy Atkins" in army truck gets chummy with French poilus.

WHITE HOUSE CLOSED TO TOURISTS—Police guard bars White House visitors for first time since President Harding lifted wartime restrictions imposed by President Wilson. No one now can enter unless on official business.

COULDN'T RESIST—This young English girl originally planned a bicycle ride through the quiet countryside but when she encountered the troops on their way to France, she couldn't resist marching alongside. Note the neatly-encased gas mask she is carrying over her shoulder.

AQUITANIA HEADS OUT TO OUTWIT U-BOATS—The veteran Cunarder Aquitania (left), a sombre, wartime grey, and with two 12-pounders mounted on the after deck, steams out of New York harbor to run the German U-boat gauntlet. Southampton was reported as her destination.

WAR LOSSES COME HOME TO GERMANY—At Stettin, two Nazi soldiers carry a stretcher bearing a comrade wounded in the Polish fighting ashore from the hospital ship Stuttgart. (Acme radio-photo, passed by censor.)

THERE WILL BE NO professional tennis tour of the United States and Canada this winter, although the war even chased Bill Tilden back to America from Europe. Instead of pounding a ball, Donald Budge will beat a piano, learning the jazz and swing he loves preparatory to taking out an orchestra on tour, long his ambition. Budge may even team up with his old doubles partner, Gene Mako, who also leans toward the trap drums.

Budge will play only once this winter to keep in condition. Back from Europe with Tilden, Ellsworth Vines and Lester Stofen, Budge leaves for Oakland shortly to seek his folks and relax a bit. Before war broke out, the professionals had hoped to enlist Gottfried von Cramm, but the German army grabbed that stylist instead. Von Cramm had planned to live in Switzerland following his trouble and imprisonment, but Budge reveals that Germany called him back and "invited" him into the army. Von Cramm, along with Hans Nusslein are on the western front.

Australia's Davis Cup tennis team members are not superstitious, for they sail for home on Friday, October 13, following participation in the Pacific Southwest and Pacific Coast championships. No one can tell, in view of war conditions, when Australia will be called on to defend the Davis Cup, but Adrian Quist is confident his country will be in good shape when that time rolls around.

Four out of five of Joe McCarthy's American League championship New York Yankees, 1932-36, 37-39 won 100 or more games. Last year the Yanks bagged 99, which really was an oversight. "We could have won more if someone had told me we were shooting for a record," says McCarthy. "We didn't realize our chance until we muffed it." So McCarthy will have to wait another year, possibly longer, before he can tie Connie Mack's all-time mark of five 100-victory major league ball clubs.

This season the Yankees put their pilot on even footing with another of the late John J. McGraw's accomplishments. McGraw topped 100 victories with the New York Giants of 1904-5-12-13. But no major league pilot has matched the pace McCarthy has set since he came to the Yankees in 1931 after being dismissed by the Chicago Cubs shortly before the 1930 season came to a close.

McCarthy was out of a job only long enough for the late Col. Jacob Ruppert to get him on the telephone. He was kicked right upstairs. McCarthy's poorest New York club won 89 contests in 1935. With the remaining games and another world series, the Buffalo Irishman will certainly slip by the 900 mark . . . 100 victories a year for nine years!

Considering the frailties of Chicago National League managers since the departure of McCarthy, baseball men wonder just what possessed William Wrigley Jr. to name Rogers Hornsby as pilot in the autumn of 1930.

McCarthy took the Cubs from nowhere to a pennant . . . established attendance figures that still stand . . . made Wrigley his first million in baseball.

CARPET BOWLING

Team members and others interested in carpet bowling are asked to attend a meeting tomorrow evening at 8 in the club rooms, 1404 Esquimalt Road.

"We'll chalk that one up to experience and I'm sure that next time it'll be an altogether different story," said Coach George Deacon of the Victoria Revellers following their defeat Saturday at the hands of the 1939 'Big Four' Canadian Football League schedule here at Macdonald Park.

The score by no means indicated the trend of the play. There was little difference between the two squads, except that the local gridders had had no experience, many of the players taking part in their first game.

The game was played before some 1,500 enthusiastic spectators and marked Victoria's return into the game after several years. The downfall of the Revellers came half way through the third quarter when Vancouver kicked on their last down from Victoria's 45 yard line to the four yard line where they recovered the ball after Victoria fumbled. On their second down Vancouver scored when Labelle, fleet-footed half-back, made a nice run around Victoria's left end. He converted, adding the extra point to make the score 6 to 0.

VICTORIA HAD EDGE

Up to this time the locals had played smart ball. In fact, they had the edge on the mainland squad and with a few breaks should have hit the scoring column two or three times with half-back Jack Grogan doing some nice kicking. It was experience again that was needed by the Revellers.

Time after time they went down into Vancouver territory, gaining yardage through one play in particular that had the visitors baffled. The play, a delayed spinner with flying wing Bill Gornall carrying the ball, presented smart blocking and interference running by the local line.

A highlight of the second quarter that brought the fans to their feet was the first completed forward pass of the game, Victoria gaining 30 yards on the play. Doug Lawford, quarterback, captain of the Victoria team, heaved the pigskin with Brent Murdoch, left half, receiving the pass. The gain put Victoria on Vancouver's 15 yard line, but on the first down the Revellers lost 12 yards and finally lost the ball to Vancouver.

Auto Races at Langford Over

The 1939 automobile racing season finished Saturday evening at Langford Speedway with Claude Walling of Portland and Lou McMurtry of Seattle sharing top honors in a fast-moving meet.

Starting second in the 20-lap main event, Walling had little trouble, leading the field home after passing the No. 1 starter, local No. 2 car, Driver Jack Frumento, on the first lap. McMurtry, starting in eighth position, drove a smart race to finish second and Digger Caldwell, Victoria No. 5 car driver, placed third after starting fifth. The winning time was 6:29 3/5.

McMurtry started the evening in grand style, winning both the Helmet Dash and first heat race. He and Caldwell tied for the fastest time in the trials with 18 2/5 seconds for the circuit.

The Seattle driver started in the pole position in both events and was able to stay out in front over Caldwell and Jerry Vantreight. Victoria, in the Helmet Dash, and again in the heat race with the addition of Joe Moore, Victoria. His time in the five-lap dash was 1:35.

In the eight-lap heat race Vantreight beat out Caldwell in the second spot passing him on the first lap along with Moore. The latter lost a wheel on the third lap and Caldwell went through to finish third. The winning time was 2:34 2/5.

Caldwell won the second heat race, leading Seth Renning of Portland, and Walling, home in 2:29 4/5.

The third-heat race saw Fred Carson, driving the local No. 8 car, go into a wild spin on the first lap to let the field pass by. Walling finished first in 2:45 with Jack Spaulding, formerly of Seattle and now residing in Victoria, second and Frumento, third.

Caldwell won over Vantreight and McMurtry in a five-lap match race. Vantreight was second.

DUNCAN—Mrs. O. T. Smythe won the medalists' competition played here with a gross score of 106, handicap 36, net 70. Mrs. W. Prest was second with gross 91, handicap 19, net 72. Miss C. Carr Hilton, third, with gross 93, handicap 19, net 74. Others taking part were Mrs. V. Kennett, Mrs. C. C. Wright, Mrs. B. Boyd-Wallis, Mrs. F. G. Aldersey and Mrs. O. Droob. The ladies' championship of the Cowichan Golf Club begins today with the finals on Friday.

Alerts Seek Equalizer

Fresher after their week-end rest, Manager Harry Sargison's Alert Service stickmen will be out to even up the city championship box lacrosse playoffs to-night when they battle James Bay in the second game of the best-of-five series at the Willows auditorium.

Manager Ted Menzies' Bays took the opener last Friday, 25 to 16.

In the preliminary, starting at 7:45, Saanich Young Liberals and McLean's will meet in the fourth game of their playoff final for the juvenile title.

ADANACS WIN

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Nelson Maple Leafs, still hoping to win at least one game of the British Columbia senior box lacrosse series, meet New Westminster Adanacs in the second game of their title fight here tonight.

Leafs lost 31 to 11 to a superior Adanac machine here Saturday night despite a game struggle, they will be out of the picture, however, if they drop tonight's tilt.

A win for Adanacs will give the coast players the right to meet an eastern team at Vancouver and New Westminster in the Mann Cup Dominion championship finals.

EASTERN PLAY

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba lacrosse teams have not figured seriously in national playdowns for several years but observers give Elmwood Pats of Suburban Winnipeg an outside chance of defeating St. Catharines Athletics in a sudden-death game here tonight.

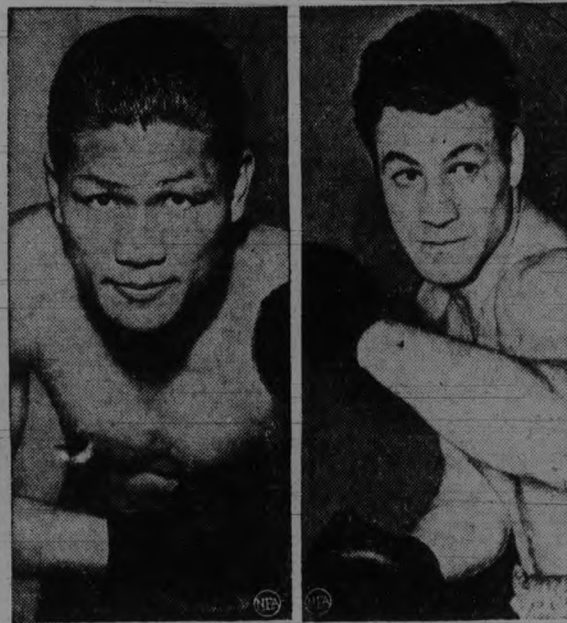

The game starts at 6:30 p.m. P.S.T. and the winner will leave tomorrow for Medicine Hat where a sudden-death game with the Alberta champions will be played Wednesday. Winner of the Medicine Hat game proceeds to the Pacific Coast for the Mann Cup final with the British Columbia titleholders.

POWELL RIVER CHAMPS

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Powell River won the British Columbia intermediate box lacrosse title and the Pat Hartney Cup here Saturday night when they defeated Wild Ducks of Pitt Meadows, B.C., 9 to 7, in one of the closest games of the season.

Fred Mowbray, 16-year-old goalie for Powell River, played a big part in his team's victory.

Trailing 5 to 6 entering the last period, Powell River tipped in four goals to take the lead for the first time.

Football

Victoria Wins Opener

Although not up to much themselves, Victoria footballers had enough on the ball to hand Vancouver St. Saviour's a 4 to 2 beating here Saturday as they opened their quest for the intercity Pacific Coast Football League championship.

The Saints were about the poorest team that has ever been shipped over from Vancouver for a Capital City engagement for some time. Their exhibition was decidedly ragged. Victoria's performance on the field was not at all impressive, but at least they showed lots of aggressiveness. Had they been more on their toes in the late stages of the final stanza they could have easily doubled their score.

It was the local team's first start of the season and, considering the fact they had only four practices tucked under their belts, their performance was quite creditable. They did not have the services of their star player, Gordie Bell, for the game. The local aggregation is named the Victoria Football Club, organized this year exclusively for intercity competition.

The Victoria redshirts sagged the hump on three counts in the first half and added another in the final session. The visitors notched one in each half.

MOSS PERFORMS WELL
Bobby Moss, making his first appearance in senior company, drew the praises of the 500 followers who attended the game for the splendid performance he turned in between the Victoria sticks. While his defence made quite solid and frustrated many attempts on his docket and much of the Vancouver shooting was wild, he was nevertheless called on to handle some tough shots. He did his chores, guarding the Vancouver posts, disappointed the fans. Built up on the mainland as one of the best goalies in the Terminal City, he certainly did not show it. He was shaky all through the game. His defence was unsound. They left him wide open all, after-noon.

At their best in the early part of the game, Vancouver drew first blood at the 20-minute mark when Jack Whent, outside right, took a pass from his centre-forward, Bobby Byford, drew Goalle Moss out of his goal and rapped the leather into the net's corner. Ten minutes later Victoria evened up when Goalle Kulai fumbled Harold Sage's high shot and the ball went between the posts. It was just a minute later that the locals went into the lead. Tony Hope backheeled a rebounded effort by a teammate into the side of the hump. At the 35-minute mark the home-town went two goals up on the visitors. Noel Morgan passed to Dallimore, who piloted the ball to within good striking distance and scored with a hard shot. It was the finest effort of the day. Score stood thus at half time.

Morgan again figured on the play that brought Victoria's fourth goal of the game. He crossed to Ralph Cosier in front of the goal. Cosier's first kick was blocked but he made sure with the second attempt. Throughout the last half Victoria was the better aggregation, but missed many scoring opportunities. Just before the final whistle blew, Enter of the visitors, scored the final goal of the game.

Ball Schedule
Ends Quietly

Associated Press

With as much fanfare as a mouse entering its hole, the 1939 baseball season ended yesterday. Chiefly 1939 was the year New York Yankees won their fourth consecutive American League championship and Cincinnati Reds avenged their innocent involvement in baseball's blackest scandal, the Black Sox episode of 20 years ago.

Yankees took the lead in the first week of the season and after one short struggle in which they were up and down with Boston Red Sox, gained permanent control May 11. They clinched their championship September 16 and finished with a 17-game margin.

The Reds had a nip-and-tuck scramble with St. Louis Cardinals at the start of the season and gave an encore of the same routine at the end of the show, although they led the National League all the way from May 26.

Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers provided the year's most surprises. Cardinals never were worse than second and Dodgers wound up third in their only first division finish since 1932.

Larry MacPhail, mogul of the Dodgers, gambled his team's position for 1,000,000 attendance yesterday and won. The club had drawn some 990,000 paid admissions and wanted to reach 1,000,000 for the season.

DODGERS' GAMBLE AND WIN

Rain fell all day and the club had third place clinched if it didn't play but ran the risk of losing their position if defeated. They nosed out Philadelphia Phillies in the rain 3 to 2 and reached both goals. A second-scheduled game was canceled.

Harry Campbell managed to come up with one of his best pitching performances, a four-hitter, to give the New York Giants a 5 to 0 shut-out over Boston Bees. Chicago Cubs nosed out Cardinals 2 to 1, and Cincinnati's champions divided a meaningless double bill with Pittsburgh Pirates 9 to 1 and 8 to 0.

In the only American League games Joe Grace hit a homer in the ninth and drove in another run in the 10th to beat Chicago White Sox 4 to 3 for St. Louis Browns, and Cleveland and Detroit split a twin bill 8 to 3 and 1 to 0.

There not only were no "double no-hit" spectacles this year, but also no single no-hit performances. Likewise slugging reached no peak comparable to the 1939 season when Hank Greenberg knocked 58 home runs. The best this season produced was 35 by Jimmie Foxx of the Red Sox.

Angels Stay
In Cup Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Baseball Club can thank the bat of Jigger Statz, its centerfielder, today for the fact it still is in the Pacific Coast League president's cup playoff.

Statz' home run with two on in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader gave the Angels a 6 to 5 victory over Sacramento. The Senators, however, won the second game, 3 to 1, and took a 3 to 2 edge in the series.

The playoff will wind up tomorrow night at Wrigley Field.

Grads Take
First Game

EDMONTON (CP)—More than 3,000 fans saw Edmonton Grads Whip Wichita (Kansas) Thursday 47 to 26 here Saturday night in the opener of a four-game series for the Underwood International Women's Basketball Challenge Trophy.

Second game of the series, to be decided on total points if each team wins twice, will be played tonight and the third Wednesday. Grads led 13 to 6 at the end of the first quarter, 27 to 15 at half-time and 39 to 21 at the three-quarter mark. Thurston made their best showing in the final session as they rallied to count five points while holding the Canadians to eight.

Grads scored 18 baskets on 64 shots for 28.1 per cent accuracy. Thurston counted on nine of 47 attempts for a 19.1 per cent average.

Thurston were better in the free throw accuracy, hooping 8 of 12 shots. Grads counted 11 of 22.

Jean Williamson, tall Grad forward, was high scorer with 16 points. Top marksman for Thurston was guard Corene Smith with nine.

Yanks Report Trouble With Hurling Staff

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds arrived in town early this morning confident they will knock over the Yankees behind the pitching of Paul Derringer in the first game of the world series Wednesday and then go on to dethrone the American League champions.

After looking at the dreary weather and considering the fact the Reds played a doubleheader against the Pirates yesterday, Manager Bill McKechnie announced there would be no practice today. They'll get their first feel of the Yankee Stadium tomorrow. McKechnie had intended to keep his pitching assignment for the first game a secret for another day or so, but when one of the sports writers came out with Derringer slated to hurl the opener, the Reds' pilot broke down and admitted "It will be Paul."

The limb started to break under the weight of the "experts" over the week-end, with indications the Yankees' "best balanced" pitching staff had suddenly become completely lopsided.

KINKS IN PITCHERS

A couple of kinks, one in Red Ruffing's trusty right arm, the other in Lefty Gomez's side, suddenly turned all the World Series analyses into a considerably battered set of humpy dumplings, although things grew somewhat righted with the latest communiques from the Yankee Stadium battleground.

These were that Ruffing's salary wing, which had seen no actual competition since September 17 and had turned sore on Saturday, was considerably looser and felt freer after a workout yesterday. The other was that Gomez, who strained a side muscle some days ago, had left the hospital, had reported for duty at the stadium and insisted he'd be ready to pitch one game of the fall classic against the Cincinnati Reds.

Old Man Weather washed out the Yanks' final game of the season yesterday, while the Reds' split in Pittsburgh before grabbing a train for New York. This left the New Yorkers with 106 victories for the season and a final

CRANBROOK POLL BEFORE MONTH-END

The provincial government will call a by-election in Cranbrook riding shortly so the district may be represented at the coming session of the Legislature, Premier Pattullo announced today.

The seat became vacant through the resignation of F. M. MacPherson, who will go to Ottawa as a member of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The Premier said the Liberal organization in Cranbrook is arranging a convention at which to choose a candidate.

Date for the poll will depend on legal requirements of the Elections Act, but will be before the end of this month. The House opens October 31.

Whether other parties will contest the seat which has been held by the Liberals for several terms is not indicated so far. In the general election of 1937 the Liberals scored an overwhelming victory, Mr. MacPherson polling 3,110 votes to 943 for his only opponent who represented the C.C.F.

MacPherson-Will Go East Shortly

F. M. MacPherson, who resigned last week as British Columbia's Minister of Public Works, will leave October 12 for Ottawa to take over his new post as a member of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Mr. MacPherson has been in Cranbrook for the last week attending to details of his personal business. He returned to Victoria yesterday.

Mrs. MacPherson will not accompany her husband east for the present, and will remain in the city until after the first of the year.

Princess Pats Not Surprised

It was no surprise and Victoria members of the famous Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, now training at Work Point military barracks, took it calmly when the news came from Ottawa that they will form part of the first Canadian division to go overseas. There was no cheering, no particular elation.

When they joined up they figured they might see service at the front. The order was expected.

The "Princess Pats" is the only local regiment chosen to go abroad. Two other regiments will go from British Columbia, making a total of approximately 1,600 men.

Mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the "Pats" have banded together in an auxiliary to see that their boys have every possible comfort when they are overseas.

So far no date has been set for the departure of the first division. Extensive training is still necessary and there is every indication all training will be done in Canada and not in England, as was done at the last war.

The "Pats" were raised in 1914 by Major Hamilton Gault of Montreal, now a resident of England, who was in Victoria this summer. Before the end of 1914 they were in the trenches and won commendation throughout the four years of fighting. Ypres was their most famous battle.

When the "Pats" get to England again they will be mothered once more by Jennie Morris, who held open house at her London home for the boys from Canada. She came to Canada a year ago to see her former "boys," but little did she realize at that time that another group, younger, a new generation, would soon be knocking again at her hospitable doors. She is ready to receive them, according to information received in Canada.

The Court of Revision met this morning in the City Council chamber and adjourned to Tuesday morning, October 12, at 10. Present were Mayor McGavin, chairman; Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, W. H. Davies and John A. Worthington.

The Anglican Synod of the diocese of British Columbia is asking the city for tax exemption on its new James Bay Sunday school at Niagara and Medina Street. ## TEACHERS CORRECT WRONG TEXTBOOKS

Teachers have to use their own initiative to bring the history and geography textbooks in the schools up to date with the fast-moving events in Europe, the Department of Education said today.

Present textbooks show Czechoslovakia and Poland as separate independent countries, and the books are reprinted and brought up to the minute only once in three or four years. Instruction in the latest developments comes within the scope of current events topics, the department said.

To the Editor:—I am not the George Patton fined for creating an offensive disturbance on Johnson Street.

Soldiers, Sailors In Midnight Crowd

Victorians who were on the streets of the business section of the city Saturday at midnight realized that war had definitely come once again.

Just history repeating itself, said the old-timer, as he saw soldiers and sailors on the streets, arm in arm with their sweethearts or wives.

Saturday was the first payday of the new war, and the boys in blue and khaki turned out for a big night at the movies and dances, which were crowded with men in uniform.

At midnight the restaurants were jammed and it was 2 or 3 in the morning before the streets were quiet.

Again yesterday morning sailors and soldiers who had been on all-night leave and slept in the city, crowded the restaurants for breakfast before starting back to naval and military barracks.

There are young "jackets" at Esquimalt from every city in Canada west of Port Arthur. Many "sky fishermen" from the northern coast of British Columbia have donned sailor uniforms.

Boys who have been doing odd jobs in their home cities, several bank clerks and other office workers, now find themselves in the navy, having been on the reserve in recent years, and the experiences at a naval port are providing an interesting change for most of them.

"Well, I guess we'll get home now and remain quiet until next payday," said a smiling sailor as he boarded the street car yesterday morning.

Back Home After Thrilling Trip

Hectic experiences like being seized by Russian secret police, being in Europe when war was declared and crossing the Atlantic soon after the sinking of the Athenia, were included in a trip by Douglas E. McIntyre of Victoria, who arrived home yesterday "ever so glad to be back."

Mr. McIntyre, son of Mrs. D. M. McIntyre and the late Mr. McIntyre of 844 Dunsuir Road, is a law graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, and left Victoria early last May with his sister, Kathleen, for an extensive trip of Europe. Miss McIntyre was with her brother during his experiences. She has not arrived home yet, visiting in the east for a time.

A few weeks before war was declared, the two were in Minsk, Russia, where they met up with a young American journalist, Charles Wells of New-York.

The next day after meeting the trio went on a "glorified" sight-seeing excursion around Minsk, taking pictures as tourists.

"We took some pictures of camps that we found out we were not supposed to see," said Mr. McIntyre, "when suddenly five burly soldiers—Russian secret police—appeared and took us into custody. They were huge ugly looking men, and I don't mind telling you, we didn't feel any too good."

The three of them were taken to jail where they were questioned. The questioning took a long time using a Russian-English dictionary. Finally after spending the whole day in jail, they were released and put on a train en route to Moscow.

"We weren't allowed off the train until it arrived in Moscow, and when we did get there, we complained to the authorities of our treatment. They shrugged their shoulders and said it was all a mistake," Mr. McIntyre continued. "They had taken one of my film away from me."

Three or four hours after Mr. McIntyre and his sister had departed from England on board S.S. Ducesse of York—they had parted previously with their American friend—the S.S. Duchess of Atholl, which was accompanying the liner along with two British destroyers, headed over, and one of the destroyers shot ahead, swerving. The York followed the Atholl and the passengers saw the destroyer dropping depth charges.

The depth charges were meant for a German submarine and it was believed that the U-boat was sunk as oil patches appeared on the water.

City Revenue Up Over 1938

Tax collections so far this year are $19,636.57 over last year. For the nine months, January 1 to September 30, this year a total of $1,035,903.25 has been collected compared with $1,016,266.68 for the same period last year.

Arrears collected this year have amounted to $190,270.44, compared with $206,763 in 1938, a decrease of $16,492.56, but this year the department had $65,000 less to collect.

Cash receipts in the lands department for the first nine months of the year have totaled $109,498, compared with $61,934 for the same period last year.

Land sales for the nine months of 1939 have reached $66,345, compared with $32,008 for the same nine months of last year.

September cash receipts in the lands department for September, 1939, were $11,992, compared with $4,615 for the same month of 1938. Land sales in September amounted to $8,200, compared with $1,225 in September a year ago.

A total of 113 parcels of land have been sold so far this year. Last year, in nine months, 80 parcels were sold. There has been only one exchange this year, compared with seven in 1938.

The Central Saanich Conservative Association is holding their annual meeting tomorrow evening at 8 in the Campbell Rooms.

Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 1249 Chapman Street; Mrs. J. A. Skellern, 15 Campbell Street; and Mrs. W. Conlin, Calgary, Alta.; one son, James, of Marquette, Mich., and four sisters, Mrs. Ed. Mansfield, Avonhurst, Sask.; Miss M. Peattie, West Vancouver; Mrs. Alec Taylor, and Mrs. John Holmes, Scotland; also 11 grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. J. L. W. McLean will officiate, assisted by Rev. Hugh MacLeod. Swimming instruction will start tomorrow with the first class for boys, 6 to 10 years old, from 3.30 to 4.15 in the afternoon. A class of instruction for boys 10 to 16 years will immediately follow the younger pupils until 5.

The senior swimming club will hold its organization meeting in the evening at 8. This section is open for boys and girls over 16 years.

Prior to the meeting—from 7.15 to 8—a class of instruction for women will be held. At 5, the same evening, the midge swim club will organize. The group will include boys and girls from six to 10 years of age. The meeting will finish by 5.45. At 6.30 the junior girls club will meet for three-quarters of an hour. This group includes girls 10 to 16 years of age.

On Thursday evening swimming instruction for men will be held from 7.30 to 8 in the evening, and on Saturday morning, at 11, a second class of instruction for boys 10 to 16 years will be held.

Miss Georgie Rudge and coach Archie McKinnon, physical director of the association, will be the main instructors.

The association has gained a fine reputation for teaching youngsters and grown-ups of both sexes, to swim. Last year 3,000 lessons were given to beginners and over 200 persons were taught to swim.

Registrations are still being accepted for all classes. Detailed particulars are available by phoning the "Y" office at E 8811.

British Withdrawing Gunboats From Yangtze

SHANGHAI (AP) — The British navy today announced withdrawal of five of its 10 gunboats from the Yangtze River patrol in "view of urgent military requirements elsewhere."

Destination of the five warships was not announced, but reliable informants believed they would be taken to Great Britain's far eastern "Gibraltar" at Singapore, to be used as patrol boats and minesweepers.

Well-informed foreigners said the move would strengthen Singapore and indicated a British preoccupation with a possible Japanese naval drive southward against the Dutch East-Indies and British possessions in that section of the Far East.

The British navy's statement said transfer of the gunboats will release a considerable number of trained officers and men whose services could be more usefully employed on active service," and added that "present conditions on the Yangtze do not justify retention of 10 gunboats between Shanghai and Hankow when other military demands are more imperative."

The gunboats vary in size. The newest is 210 feet long, armed with six-inch guns and capable of a speed of 22 knots.

The entrance class of Margaret Jenkins School returned on Friday afternoon for tea and presentation of prizes. Tea was served to the pupils and their parents by the executive of Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association. The president, Mrs. G. W. Pottinger, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. J. H. Fletcher of the Women's Canadian Club, who presented the history prize given by that organization to Vivian Bales.

Miss Winsome Smith was the recipient of the Margaret Jenkins prize awarded annually by the late Mrs. Margaret Jenkins. Col. W. N. Winsby in presenting this prize gave an inspiring talk to his late pupils.

The girls of the class were presented with colonial bouquets of sweet peas and gladioli while the boys received bougainvillea.

The tea room was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers and a large bowl of sweet peas centred the treatable at which Mrs. E. Havercroft and Miss Blankenbach poured tea assisted by the ladies of the executive under the able convenship of Mrs. Unwin. Following tea a short musical program was given by Mrs. Groves.

Pleasant Way to Relieve Piles

If you are a chronic or temporary sufferer from piles, you will be glad to know of an easy and pleasant way to get relief. For almost all of these cases are caused or made worse by a congestion of blood in the lower bowel.

Dr. B. J. Leonhardt found one great cause of piles comes from inside the body and to get satisfactory relief this cause should be treated. He also found out this could best be done with an internal treatment. His prescription, Hem-Roid, is therefore directed to getting at what he found to be the most active cause of trouble. Once this is helped, pile misery is quickly relieved.

The use of Hem-Roid is a very effective, easy and pleasant way to treat piles. Vancouver Drug Co. Ltd. or any other druggist can supply you and if you are not pleased with the first package, you may have your money back. Try it and prepare yourself for a pleasant surprise.

Hem-Roid has been successful in hundreds of cases of piles, many of long standing, and is so successful generally any pile sufferer may give Hem-Roid a trial, without cost if relief is not prompt and satisfactory. Generally good results are seen the first day.

THE 1938 Democratic presiden- tial nominee declared bluntly "the present neutrality act does not work," and added: "It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting."

"I believe we should prevent the transportation in American ships of any goods in any kind, war goods or other goods, contraband or non-contraband or any passengers to the warring nations."

"It was undoubtedly the absence of such a law in 1917 that brought us into the World War. There is only one way of avoiding a repetition of that experience and that is by keeping American ships and American passengers out of trade with belligerents."

SENSATIONAL PRODIGY—Ossy Renardy, young violin wizard, who will appear here next month with Rose Bampton, Metropolitan Opera soprano, who made such a hit in Victoria last season. The joint concert will be held October 23 in the Royal Victoria Theatre as the opening feature on the Hilker subscription series. Reservations are now being accepted at the box office, Fletcher Bros. Music Store, 1130 Douglas Street.

'Old Maid' Held Over at Capitol

Bette Davis, the screen's first actress, is seen in her newest Warner Bros. picture, "The Old Maid," held over at the Capitol Theatre. Co-starring with Miss Davis is Miriam Hopkins and George Brent. "The Old Maid" was adapted for the screen from the story by Edith Wharton, which later was dramatized for the stage by Zoe Akins. After a long run in New York and on the road, it won a Pulitzer prize.

The story deals with two cousins, Charlotte and Della Lovell, who live in the same old house in aristocratic Philadelphia in the period between 1861 and 1880. Despite the luxury and wealth with which they are surrounded, they hate and envy each other for 20 odd years.

'Climbing High' On Plaza Screen

"Climbing High," the Jessie Matthews picture which opened today at the Plaza Theatre leaves the spectator in a happy mood.

It is a breezy, lighthearted affair expertly directed and superbly acted by a fine cast. Jessie Matthews appears in a comedy part without benefit of songs and dances. She has fine support from Michael Redgrave, her new—and handsome—leading man, and from Tucker McGuire, Alastair Sim, Noel Madison and Margaret Vyner.

'It's a Wonderful World,' Oak Bay

Combining hairbreadth escapes and suspenseful action with high hilarity, "It's a Wonderful World," presenting Claudette Colbert and James Stewart, is now launched on its merry engagement at the Oak Bay Theatre.

In sprightly dialogue the picture reveals the efforts of James Stewart and Claudette Colbert to solve a murder mystery wherein Stewart is innocently involved. Together they track down a real murderer after a series of daring exploits and clever deductions, and both find they are in love, despite the fact that Stewart is finally, in humorous desperation, forced to sock Miss Colbert on the jaw.

Cagney and Raft Paired at Atlas

Seven of the screen's top-notch "heavies" worked in "Each Dawn I Die," the Warner Bros. picture co-starring James Cagney and George Raft, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

For a single picture to have seven menaces is not, in itself, unusual. Plenty of films surround their ace bad men with gangs. These subordinate villains invariably are called henchmen.

The novelty of the menace set-up in "Each Dawn I Die" lay in the fact that none of the seven "heavies" was a henchman. Each was an individual specialist in skulduggery, hence, the race for meanest man honors was wide open.

Al Smith Backs Neutrality Changes

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred E. Smith is urging the United States to "stand solidly behind" President Roosevelt in his effort to amend the neutrality act because "he is so clearly right."

Speaking over a nationwide network Mr. Smith said: "I urge this with all the sincerity I possess, with the profound conviction that I speak for the good of the nation which we all love."

It was the "happy warrior's" first public utterance favoring an administration policy since he "took a walk" from the Democratic Party in the 1936 presidential election and campaigned against Mr. Roosevelt, his former close personal and political friend.

The 1938 Democratic presidential nominee declared bluntly "the present neutrality act does not work," and added: "It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting."

"I believe we should prevent the transportation in American ships of any goods in any kind, war goods or other goods, contraband or non-contraband or any passengers to the warring nations."

"It was undoubtedly the absence of such a law in 1917 that brought us into the World War. There is only one way of avoiding a repetition of that experience and that is by keeping American ships and American passengers out of trade with belligerents."

U.S. May Abandon 'Little America'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may abandon "Little America" in the Antarctic to British claims and take title instead to territory lying farther east.

Officials of a forthcoming government expedition to the South Pole disclosed this possibility today. The party will embark from Boston early in November and reach South Polar waters early next January.

Although the flagship North Star, under command of Rear Admiral Richard Byrd, will proceed directly to the explorer's old base at Little America, a permanent camp may be established east of this British-claimed territory, the officials said, between 70 degrees and 150 degrees west longitude.

That would put the American field in an area never before claimed by any nation, they explained, and would avoid possible conflict with rival British explorations.

Hopepeak's Master In Hospital Here

Capt. James Hardy, master of the British freighter Hopepeak, is recovering in St. Joseph's Hospital today following an operation for acute appendicitis.

Capt. Hardy was ill when the Hopepeak reached here on Saturday and was taken to hospital in an ambulance, Dr. A. E. McMicking attending the case.

The captain was reported this morning to be resting comfortably at the hospital and well on the road to recovery.

The ship went on to Vancouver in charge of the chief officer. While at Pier 1, Rithet Docks, on Saturday the Hopepeak loaded 4,940 cartons of canned loganberries exported by the Vancouver Island Co-operative Fruit Exchange and Victoria Fruit Packing Company of Lake Hill. Other cargo stowed here included 630 doors, manufactured by the Lemon Gonnason Company.

Customs Men Retire

Two officers of the Victoria customs service, Alfred C. Boyce, customs excise examiner, and Frederick King, packer in the appraisers' division, have been retired, it was announced today by G. A. Yardley, collector of customs and excise.

Both have reached the age limit and will retire on pension. "Both officials have been very efficient and faithful servants of the government," said Mr. Yardley in eulogizing the services of Messrs. Boyce and King. "We wish them health and long life in their retirement."

Mr. Boyce has been with the customs service here for the past 28 years.

No War Hysteria Seen in Canada

TORONTO (CP)—War hysteria is more evidence in the United States than in Canada, Dennis King, actor, said today after arriving from Montreal for a week's engagement here in the musical comedy "I Married an Angel."

He was impressed by the calmness of the Canadian people, he said.

Mr. King believes the theatre is valuable in wartime to help the morale of the people. He recalled being in the third gallery of a theatre in London during an air raid in the first Great War. The audience could feel the concussion of the bombs being dropped, but a little comic saved the situation by bouncing out on the stage and remarking: "We seem to be 'aving a bit of hopposity."

Tonnage for Lumber Orders

VANCOUVER — Orders from the United Kingdom sufficient to keep British Columbia's lumber mills busy through most of the winter have been received, and the British government has undertaken to provide the necessary tonnage to make delivery.

Lumbermen declined to reveal definite figures on the amount of business received, but it is estimated at approximately 200,000,000 feet, enough for a least 40 deepsea cargoes.

In addition to this business, the industry has been assured that British buyers will absorb the lumber already ordered in this market and provide ships to carry it. This amounts to another 300,000,000 feet, or thereabouts.

Lumbermen and business interests throughout the province were cheered by the announcement that definite orders had been placed.

It was taken not only as an indication that the logging and sawmills industries will be able to maintain their present production pace until the turn of the year, but as an assurance that Britain's timber and shipping organizations have mastered the problem of delivery and distribution.

Dutch War Vessel Fires On Britisher

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—A Netherlands naval guard boat, the Z-7, was disclosed officially to have fired warning shots to stop the 1,004-ton British ship Lindisfarne last night after they had collided in Netherlands territorial waters off the Hook of Holland.

The Lindisfarne allegedly ignored a summons to stop, the official report said, whereupon the patrol boat used gunfire and compelled the merchantman to return to port at the Hook of Holland.

After an official record was made of the collision and the alleged attempt to elude a Netherlands warship, the Lindisfarne was permitted to proceed. The announcement said the Z-7 apparently was not damaged and the Lindisfarne only slightly damaged.

Big Italian Liners To Be Withdrawn

NEW YORK (AP)—Italian Line announced today that its Rex and Conte di Savoia, "now being operated at ruinous costs owing to prohibitive war risk insurance and no appreciable revenues on their eastbound trips," would be withdrawn from service after their next round trips.

Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—Most corporate bonds stepped down a little today.

U.S. treasury issues settled into a narrower zone along with corporates. Belgium 7s dropped about 2.

Wheat

WINNIPEG — Lack of active export interest in North American wheat combined with a weak display at Chicago to drop wheat futures prices nearly two cents today. Trading was quiet apart from the opening flurry and at the close quotations were 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents lower, October at 69 1/2, November 70 1/2, December 71 1/2 to 71 3/4 and May 75 1/2 to 76.

Light selling and hedging was evident from the start and soon depressed values as buyers showed little inclination to aid the sagging market. Only scattered export sales of Canadian wheat were confirmed.

Chicago dipped more than a cent at times while Buenos Aires was 1 1/2 cent lower to unchanged at noon.

Cash operations also were quiet except for minor mill purchases of Nos. 2, 3 and 4 northern. Country marketings reached 4,091,000 bushels Saturday compared with 4,051,000 during the same day a year ago.

Vikings Settled Iceland 1,050 Years Ago

If we could take the state of Ohio to the North Atlantic, we might use it to cover Iceland. This island contains 39,709 square miles, about 1,000 square miles less than American state.

Old Norse ship now on display at Oslo, Norway.

Except that it is almost as large, Iceland differs a great deal from Ohio. Instead of green-clad valleys and gently-sloping land, it is marked chiefly by fields of lava, craters of volcanoes, low mountains, sharp cliffs and mud lakes. There are springs where boiling waters rise to the surface, and geysers which spout into the air. In a few places the soil is good for crops.

Snow sometimes falls in the summertime in Iceland, but this does not mean the weather is extremely cold the year around. The air is cool, but not extremely cold.

The capital of Iceland is Reykjavik. It contains about 30,000 people. The average winter temperature there is 32 degrees above zero Fahrenheit. Even in midwinter, the coldest temperature is above zero.

The northern side of Iceland touches the Arctic Circle, and the climate would be much colder except for one thing—the Gulf stream. This warm water current sweeps up to Iceland and gives warmth to the air around the island.

The first sailors to reach Iceland came from the British Isles about the year 800. It is believed they were mainly Irishmen, but there may have been some Scots in the party. Though they made a record of their visit, it seems that no lasting settlement was formed at the time.

About 70 years later, Vikings or bands of Norsemen began to settle in Iceland. Some came straight from Norway. Others had lived for a time in the Orkney Islands, north of Scotland.

The Vikings were the leading travelers of their day. Setting out from ports in Norway, Sweden and Denmark, they boarded long, open boats. Then they sailed far and wide over the North Sea and the North Atlantic, also over the Baltic Sea.

When they came to a land which seemed like a good place to settle, the Vikings went ashore. If natives tried to bar their way, the Vikings fought them. The soldiers were armed with spears, swords and shields.

Before I close, I want to make note that the Queen of Dublin sailed to Iceland about the year 895. With her went several hundred persons, and a successful colony was started. A great deal of Irish blood flows in the veins of present-day Icelanders.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, October 3

Good and bad planetary influences contend today. The early hours are under adverse influence, but in the afternoon benefic aspects rule. Under this direction of the stars there may be a tendency to dictate to those with whom one is associated. The stars stimulate merchandising and encourage initiative after midday.

Heart and Home—A tendency toward unwise spending which is likely to affect many subjects of this sign may cause serious family quarrels. Those born after midnight or about sunrise may be lucky in receiving unexpected money that will compensate for extravagances. Marriage should be successful for those who permit a certain latitude of action and interest in the domestic partnership.

Business Affairs—Certain lines of manufacturing and merchandising may encounter trouble. Warning has been given repeatedly by the seers that the economic revolution should be recognized and readjustments should be effected. Extremes in demands must be avoided if harmony is to prevail.

National Issues—Race consciousness may be the cause of clashes among workers in certain trades. The seers emphasize that in the United States there is no distinction because of the color of a man's skin or the locality of his birth. Warning is given that political leaders should avoid any use of unjust prejudice to promote their plans for party victory.

International Affairs—A new spy scare is prognosticated. Danger that old world enmities will cause the pursuit and murder of certain refugees is described by the seers. Warning is given that opinions should not be voiced publicly where it is possible to misconstrue them. Wise men and ANSWER: Misogynist. A misogynist is a hater of marriage, and a misologist is a hater of argument, or discussion.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a woman of 42. Attractive and full of life. Have a wonderful position where I am happy and well paid. I have agreed to marry a widower 65 years old, who has money and a shady business past. We have nothing in common intellectually or otherwise. I do not love him, but think I can make a go of it if I marry him. On the other hand, I am dreadfully in love with my employer, who loves me, but we cannot marry. So I am marrying to get out of an impossible situation. Please tell me if I am doing the right thing.

Answer: You are not only doing the worst thing possible under the circumstances, but the most idiotic thing a woman could do, because you are adding the final touch of gloom to a picture that is dark enough as it stands.

It is unfortunate for you that you have fallen in love with a married man, but marrying a man whom you neither respect nor love and with whom you have nothing in common is not a cure for that. It is simply jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, and your last estate will be far worse than your first. You say that you think you could make a go of such a marriage, but your business sense should tell you better than that. You wouldn't invest even $1,000 in an enterprise for which you had neither taste nor training nor experience and in which your partner would be a man whom you knew to be a crook. Why, then, be foolish enough to put everything you are and have in a marriage in which the odds are so heavy against you?

DOROTHY DIX.

Mundelein Dies
In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—George Cardinal Mundelein, 67, Archbishop of Chicago, died suddenly today.

He was found dead at his residence in Mundelein, Ill., by Msgr. Patrick Hayes. Father Hayes had gone to the cardinal's room to call him when the prelate did not appear for his customary morning devotions.

LATE CARDINAL MUNDELEIN

The cardinal, who won wide notice for building the Chicago diocese into one of the largest and wealthiest in the world, was regarded as "perfect health" as late as yesterday.

The diocesan office said he had worked at his duties Saturday and said mass yesterday, as was his custom, at the seminary in Mundelein.

A round-faced boy of German lineage who preferred serving on the altar to playing neighborhood games, George William Mundelein left his New York home in early youth to obey the Saviour's admonition: "Go ye and teach all nations."

His course led from the parochial school of his boyhood to the first cardinalate of the Roman Catholic church in the U.S. created west of the Alleghenies, in which he served from Chicago a territory regarded scarcely two decades before as a missionary region.

From the time he became Archbishop of Chicago in November, 1930, he developed the spiritual, charitable, civic and educational work of the church at such a pace that the Holy See viewed his labors with increasing favor. For several years the red hat had been forecast for him when he was summoned to Rome in March, 1924, to receive it.

Cardinal Mundelein returned to Chicago from abroad to meet a welcome from tens of thousands of persons and in a score of tongues. Fifty thousand persons marched in the procession which escorted the city's first prince of the Catholic church through the streets lined by 1,000,000 spectators.

His achievements were crowned when the city of Chicago was host in 1926 to the Eucharistic Congress, the first ever held in the United States.

BORN IN NEW YORK

To his high station he came from the Bowery district of New York, where he was born on July 2, 1872. The same section of the city produced Al Smith and Gene Tunney, the pugilist. He was one of nine children of an early immigrant family, and his maternal grandfather was said to have been the first union soldier killed at Fort Sumter in the Civil War.

Cardinal Mundelein's career was cast almost entirely along administrative lines.

Before he came to Chicago he had won attention in the east as a builder of magnificent cathedrals. To that task he brought an unusual knowledge of architecture.

He was ordained priest in 1895. From 1897 till 1909 he served as chancellor of the diocese of Brooklyn. He was bishop of auxiliary Brooklyn from 1909 till 1915, when he was translated to Chicago.

On the death of Pope Pius XI this year Cardinal Mundelein was mentioned as a papal candidate. Cardinal Mundelein was a bitter critic of the Hitler regime in Germany and its enslavement of the people. He attracted world-wide attention in 1937 when he referred to Adolf Hitler, in a public address, as "an Austrian paper hanger and a poor one at that."

He was a close friend of President Roosevelt, whom he visited in the White House on several occasions.

25 Years Ago

OCTOBER 2, 1914

LONDON—Unless all signs are wrong the German armies in France, or at any rate most of them, are nearing the completion of their round-trip. This, it is held here, is the only conclusion—hinted at even by the Berlin papers—to be drawn from the reports, both official or unofficial, of those on or near the scene of action.

LONDON—Major-General Edwin A. H. Alderson, C.B., has been given command of the Canadian overseas contingent, and will take charge of the force upon its arrival here.

Typhoons interfered considerably with the schedule of the Blue Funnel liner Taishybius, Capt. Culmum, while she was in Oriental waters, and accounted for her arrival here this morning six days behind time. The big ship met with a five-day delay at Manila and at Hongkong typhoon weather kept her in port three days longer than her schedule called for.

TENPIN METING

A meeting of the Men's Commercial Tenpin League will be held tomorrow evening at 8 in the Olympic Bowling Alleys.

LINER ATTACKED;
VICTORIAN ABOARD

A resident of Victoria, who was a passenger aboard the liner Duchess of York returning to Canada when a submarine was sighted and sunk on the first night out from England, was Mrs. Duncan Bain who has returned to her home at 150 Robertson Street.

Mrs. Bain stated that the periscope of a submarine had been clearly seen and that conveying destroyers had dropped depth charges. Shortly afterwards a large patch of oil spread over the water indicating that the U-boat had been sunk.

Several survivors of the liner Athenia, which was sunk by a submarine, were aboard the Duchess of York. They sat in the lounge for two days and refused to go to bed. They told Mrs. Bain that one of the lifeboats on the Athenia had been upset by the propeller and most of its passengers drowned.

During the first 400 miles of the trip on the Duchess liner, an airplane had circled overhead watching for indications of the presence of hostile craft.

The captain of the Duchess of York remained on the bridge for nearly a week with little rest. When the danger zone was passed and he came down to mingle with the passengers a dinner was served in his honor. Balloons and paper hats were passed around and the national anthem was sung.

Mrs. Bain told of the preparations for defence which she saw while in Scotland, nearly two weeks before the war was declared.

Mrs. Bain motored with a brother from the south coast of England to London in almost total darkness on her way to the docks. Near London the car missed hitting a petrol station "by an inch."

Peanut Tag Day
Collects $580

The result of the Kinsmen Club's peanut tag day Saturday was $580, most of which would be used to purchase uniforms and equipment for the organization's recently-formed boys' band, officials in charge said today.

A small amount of the $580 will be used to cover expenses, but the bigger part will go towards outfitting the band.

Thanks of the club were extended to the taggers, who included members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, Harold Bourne, publicity director, said.

A statement of expenses and receipts of the tag will be made at the supper meeting of the club in Spencer's dining-room on Thursday evening, and arrangements for the buying of band equipment will be made.

The committee in charge of the peanut day included P. J. Mulcahy, chairman; Les Fritsch, Tyson Dickinson, George Fatt and Mr. Bourne.

Youngest Soldier?

Victoria Boy in Trenches at 13

An eastern newspaper recently said Henry Trowall was the youngest Canadian to serve in the last war. He was in France when he was 15.

When F. K. Reimer of Victoria saw that he said that he was in the trenches when he was 14.

Now comes word from A. R. Nex, 660 Montreal Street, that his son was in the front lines at the age of 13 and eight months.

A. G. NEX

Taken shortly after he came home from the last war.

"I believe my son, Alfred George Nex, was the youngest soldier to leave Victoria and also the youngest who went from Canada," Mr. Nex said today.

Young Nex was born July 30, 1901 and enlisted in July, 1914, going to the Willows in the second week of August. In January, 1915, he left Victoria for France and was there at the age of 13 years and eight months. He was wounded and discharged November 10, 1916.

The youngest enlisted as a bugler in the Gordon Highlanders and at the time was so small that Lieut.-Colonel A. W. Currie, later Sir Arthur, could not find a uniform small enough for him and had to get the tailor to cut one of the uniforms down to his size. All the time Nex was in the trenches he was known affectionately as "Nexie."

He was badly shell-shocked while in the front lines and in recent years has been a patient at Essondale Hospital.

Riggs Beaten
By Bromwich

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Bromwich of Australia met Franjo Puncce of Yugoslavia today in the final of the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament.

Bromwich reached the finals by defeating Bobby Riggs, national champion, 6-4, 6-4, 0-6, 6-3, and averaging a defeat in the finals of the Davis Cup play.

Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, defending women's champion, advanced to the finals by beating Mrs. Freda James Hammersley of England, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

UPSETS AT BERKELEY

BERKELEY TENNIS CLUB, Cal.—Old man upset crept into the second day's play of the Golden Jubilee Pacific Coast tennis tournament here yesterday, when Larry Dee, San Francisco, seeded No. 10 in the domestic seed was eliminated in a men's singles second-round match by his fellow townsman, Eddie Amark, non-ranked, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

Dee defeated Albert Davis, Portland, 6-1, 6-3, in his first-round match.

Frankie Parker of Los Angeles, member of the American Davis Cup squad, and seeded No. 2 in this tournament, reached the third round of men's singles when he defeated Jim Hobart, University of California freshman, 6-2, 6-4.

Wayne Sabin, Portland, No. 5 in the seed, had little trouble reaching the third round, eliminating Harold Wagner, San Francisco, 6-1, 6-1.

BOBBY FELLER SEASON'S STAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The "star of the season" in the major baseball league constellation was young Bobby Feller of Cleveland Indians.

In the Associated Press tabulation of stars during the baseball campaign Feller narrowly edged out such stellar performers as Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox and Bucky Walters of Cincinnati Reds.

The fireball ace of Cleveland's pitching staff won 24 games and lost nine over the season's route and distinguished his record with two one-hit ball games.

He also struck out 243 batters, leading his closest rival by some 50 strikeouts.

Feller won the first game of a doubleheader against Detroit yesterday on six-hit pitching.

DiMaggio and Mize Champs

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio of New York Yankees and Johnny Mize of St. Louis Cardinals assumed the major baseball league batting titles today.

The "Yankee Clipper" finished the American League season with a .381 mark, 32 points better than the winning percentage last year of Jimmie Foxx of Boston Red Sox.

Mize's mark of .349 also was better than last year, when Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati Reds topped the National League at .342.

For the big Cardinal first baseman the championship climaxed a three-year quest. He was second in 1937 and 1938.

Home run production fell off almost 50 per cent during the season with Foxx, who also was second in batting, although out of action for approximately the last month, leading both leagues with 35.

Mize hit his 28th home run yesterday to break a deadlock with Mel Ott of the Giants, and lead National League sluggers.

Lawn Bowling

"Flins" was written to another successful season by the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club Saturday afternoon when members gathered for the wind-up program. All the greens were occupied and some splendid exhibitions of the game were witnessed.

J. H. Cattroll's rink carried off the first prize and the rink skipped by R. H. Harrison was runner-up.

J. E. Day, vice-president, pinching for J. C. McDonald, president, who was unable to attend, welcomed visiting bowlers.

VANCOUVER BEAT LOCALS
18 TO 0

Then came the first score during the third quarter with the locals pulling some costly errors, but nevertheless some excellent plays being seen.

Soon after Vancouver's touch, Grogan gained 25 yards for Victoria on a broken field run going into scoring position again, but the quarter ended before Victoria advanced any further.

ROUGE SCORE

With eight minutes to go in the game—Vancouver had gone down into Victoria territory on running plays—Labbie punted behind the goal line. Grogan was rouged on the play with tackle Spooner bringing him down, and the score stood at 7 to 0.

Soon after Vancouver added six more points when McKenzie, running half-back, drove through the Victoria line for a touch. Interception of two Victoria forward passes and poor tackling on the part of the locals had put the mainlanders down into scoring position on the eight yard line. Hemphill, Vancouver flying wing, carried a short forward pass for the conversion on the touch, making the score 13 to 0.

With minutes to go, the visitors scored again when Labbe kicked to the Victoria goal line. Grogan missed the catch and Ross fell on the ball for the touchdown, making the score 18 to 0. Vancouver failed to convert even though the kick crossed the goal because the ball hit a helmet of one of the Vancouver players.

Brent Murdoch, left half, and Grogan, right half, played particularly good ball for the Revelers despite a mistake or two on the part of the latter. Both Vancouver's and Victoria's lines held up well.

LOCALS PROMISING

Tribute was paid the local team and its coach by the Vancouver coach, "Scotty" Brown, after the struggle. Victoria had a smart ball club and one of the finest of coaches, and with a few games under their belt, should go places.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, accompanied by Tommy Stevenson, president of the Victoria Revelers' Club and Coach Deacon, was introduced to the players of both teams prior to the start of the game. He welcomed the mainlanders and expressed the hope that the league would be a success. He kicked the first ball for the start of the game.

A competent list of officials handled the game. They were: Referee, Norm Burley, Vancouver; umpire, Dr. John Sturdy, Victoria; head linesman, Ernie Cook, Victoria. The teams were:

Vancouver Knights of Columbus—Dionne, Jamieson, Eaton, Smith, Spooner, Douglas, Turner, Kirkham, McPhee, Legall, McVey, Rose, Sheehan, McCready, Labbe, McDonald, McKenzie, Coyle, Hemphill, Sanderson, Russell, Belanger and Larson.

Victoria Revelers—Goodman, McKim, Garrison, Ley, Morgan, Lawson, Page, Mair, Jenkins, S. Anderson, J. Skellern, B. Murdoch, Brodigan, McTaggart, Little, Jack Skellern, Gornall, Lawford, B. Anderson, G. Murdoch, McLean, Thompson, Grogan and Mooney.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Varsity Thunderbirds edged out North Shore Lions, last year's "Big Four" Canadian Rugby League champions, 10 to 8 Saturday in the first game of the league's 1939 schedule.

Fumbles featured play throughout, but the match was hard fought, the lead changing hands three times.

BOMBERS, REGINA WIN

WINNIPEG—Winnipeg Blue Bombers stretched their 1939 unbeaten record in the Western Interprovincial Football Union to seven games Saturday, whipping the most dangerous challengers, Calgary Bronks, 25 to 6, before 6,000 spectators.

Three converted touchdowns in the first quarter shattered the Calgary challenge in short order.

RUFFING TO START

Ruffing is expected to do the honors in the first game for the Yanks. Walters would follow for the Reds and Monte Pearson, the stylish right-hander from California, for the Yanks in Thursday's game, leaving Gomez to take one of the later tilts.

The third game comes off, unless a spot of rain interrupts, in Cincinnati Saturday. With a day off for traveling, McKechnie is almost sure to come back in the third and fourth tilts with Derringer and Walters. Probably Bump Hadley and Gomez would oppose them. Junior Thompson, the ex-class B hurler, is the likely choice for the Reds' fifth game tosser, if necessary.
